ALEX G. SPANOS

Owner

In his early years, Alex Spanos worked night and day, seven days a week in his father's bakery. His growing family was struggling to make ends meet on $40 a week. In 1951, at the age of 27, the time came for Spanos to make the toughest business decision of his life – to stay in the family business or strike out on his own.

More than 50 years later, Spanos has transformed an $800 loan into one of the leading real estate and development companies in the building industry. As the founder and chairman of A.G. Spanos Companies, the nation's largest family-owned construction company, his commitment to quality and integrity are imprinted in the daily operation and management of the eight companies that are wholly owned and managed by the Spanos family, as well as the San Diego Chargers.

REALIZING A DREAM

The success of the A.G. Spanos Companies has allowed him to pursue many dreams, including owning a National Football League team.

"I always believed in the pursuit of one's dreams," Spanos said in announcing his intention to buy the team. "For me, it has been a lifelong goal to own an NFL team. In buying the San Diego Chargers, I've been able to realize a dream." On Aug. 1, 1984, the dream became reality.

Though Spanos turned over much of the day-to-day operations of the Chargers to his eldest son, Dean, in 1994, he remains active in all business matters related to the team and the league.

Spanos' commitment and value to the NFL was recognized when NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue named him to the League's Expansion and Realignment Committee in 1991. He currently serves on the League's Legislative Committee.

A MODEL BUSINESS

Spanos has made family part of his formula for business success. One of the nation's most productive real estate and development companies, the A.G. Spanos organization is a family-run operation. The family works as a unit with trust and confidence while directing the Chargers and Spanos companies. Son Dean serves as President-Chief Executive Officer of the Chargers and President-Vice Chairman of the Spanos corporate organization. Son Michael manages the construction and development activities of the company and is the Executive Vice President of the Chargers. Alex and his sons are the team behind each business venture.

In addition to the Chargers, the Spanos companies include A.G. Spanos Construction, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Management, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Development, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Enterprises, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Realty, Inc.; AGS Financial Corporation; A. G. Spanos Securities Corporation, and the Spanos Corporation.

GIVING BACK

Spanos' belief in supporting his community has paid countless dividends for San Diego.

The Alex G. Spanos San Diego Foundation (now the Chargers Community Foundation) was created and funded by Spanos in 1995 to "help San Diego build on its strengths by supporting individuals, activities and organizations that work to make the city a better place to live." With a focus on youth and education, Spanos and the Foundation have contributed millions of dollars to support San Diego charities and organizations.

The Foundation's first contribution was a $1.5 million donation to kick off the $6.5 million fund-raising effort for the San Diego Hall of Champions Sports Museum. Spanos serves on its advisory board.

"My family and I are proud to be a part of the San Diego community," said Spanos. "I'm very fortunate to be in a position to help the city and the people who have been so supportive of the Chargers over the years."

Spanos led the effort to bring Super Bowl XXXVII to San Diego in January, 2003. It marked the second time in five years that Spanos has delivered the Super Bowl and focused the world's attention on San Diego. Spanos is credited for using his influence with the NFL and its owners to land Super Bowl XXXII for the City of San Diego played Jan. 25, 1998. Each game brought close to $300 million to the regional economy.

His leadership was instrumental in bringing the 1996 Republican National Convention to San Diego, another financial coup for the city.

In March 2000, the Spanos family introduced the five-year $3 million Chargers Champions program encompassing the team's ongoing support of youth, education and sports, as well as its long-standing community service programs. Chargers Champions benefits students, schools and educators that are "making the difference" for San Diego's future. In each of the past four years at the annual San Diego Chargers All-Star Gala, 22 outstanding high-school juniors have been awarded $7,000 scholarships and laptop computers. Since 2001, the Chargers Champions program has awarded grants to schools as well as grants and laptop computers to San Diego's most deserving educators. This annual commitment of nearly $400,000 in scholarships and grants is unmatched in the San Diego community.

Spanos also has been a strong supporter of high school sports in San Diego. He annually sponsors the CIF San Diego Section football championships, allowing the games to be played in Qualcomm Stadium. His backing of the San Diego High School Sports Association and the San Diego County high school all-star football game led to the game being named the Alex Spanos All-Star Football Classic in 1993.

Spanos' major gifts to San Diego are too numerous to mention, and he prefers to keep most out of the spotlight. Here are just a few of his notable contributions:

- During the 1998 offseason, Spanos announced the creation of the Brooke Humphries Heart Fund in honor of retiring quarterback Stan Humphries and a six-figure contribution to San Diego Children's Hospital in Brooke's name. Stan's daughter Brooke underwent major surgery to correct a heart birth defect.
- Spanos and his family kicked off the week of Super Bowl XXXII in 1998 with major six-figure contributions to both Children's Hospital and the national Christmas in April program.
- In 1995, Spanos' financial support led to the development of a multiuse sports facility for the Pacific Beach community and the students of Kate Sessions Elementary and The Bishop's School. The Alex G. Spanos Sports Fields were dedicated in 1997.
- In 1994, he kicked off a fund-raising telethon for the San Diego Olympic Training Center with another six-figure pledge and challenge to the local community.
- Spanos built the state-of-the-art Alex G. Spanos Athletic and Recreation Building at the University of California-San Diego.
- Children's Hospital benefited again when he served as chairman of their first Miracle Network Telethon.
- He also has served as chairman of the San Diego County Easter Seals Telethon and the Loaned Executive campaign drive for United Way/CHAD.

GLOBAL GIVING

Spanos' philanthropy extends across the globe.

In 1998 Spanos generously gave separate $1 million donations to three different institutions in California. His support to his alma mater, the University of the Pacific, improved the stadium, athletic facilities and residence halls for the entire student population. A similar contribution to Sacramento State's athletic facilities enabled the university to host the 2000 Olympic track and field trials. The same support also went to rebuild the Samuel N. Hancock Christian School, a private school in an urban area of Stockton. In 1997 he gave $1 million to the American Red Cross to help flood victims in Northern California and helped raise an additional $1 million.

Spanos spearheaded a campaign during the Gulf War crisis, which was the most successful fund-raising event in the history of the United Service Organization. In 1991, he chaired the USO's Golden Anniversary Salute Luncheon that raised more than $4.5 million.

Spanos also was the founder and driving force behind seven biennial fund-raising Evening of Elegance dinners benefiting assorted children's charities, including San Diego Children's Hospital and Health Center. Proceeds from the last Evening of Elegance held in 1985 topped $1 million.

Organizations in San Diego and across the country have honored Spanos often for his generosity. He has received the top awards given in San Diego by the Greater

San Diego Chamber of Commerce, the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau, and the San Diego Boys and Girls Clubs. National organizations such as Volunteers of America, Pop Warner Youth Football, Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, and the American Cinema Awards Foundation have honored Spanos with their top awards.

Spanos' hard work and determination to succeed were recognized in 1986 when he was one of a select group of 80 Americans awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor by the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation and the New York Statue of Liberty Commission. Son Dean earned the unique distinction of becoming a second generation recipient of the award in 2002.

Spanos is an Honorary Regent of the University of the Pacific and a Trustee of the Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Springs.

HIS STORY

These acts of caring demonstrate the commitment of a man who has carved a remarkable career in business and whose dedication to family and community has been an inspiring example for others.

Spanos outlined his lifelong credo of giving back in his autobiography, Sharing the Wealth: My Story, a compelling, first-hand account of the events and decisions in his life that became his basic fundamentals for success. A fiercely loyal American who harbors a deep love for his Greek heritage, Spanos benefited from that dual heritage and combined it into an unbeatable formula for success. As he reveals in his book, he feels it's a duty and privilege to share his secrets of success.

In the book's foreword, Rush Limbaugh says: "You are about to race through a marvelous and riveting account of a distinctly American life in which the concepts of 'failure' and 'can't' do not apply...Be prepared to be dazzled, informed, entertained, and challenged....This is a book that will change your life forever and for the good."

Spanos was born September 28, 1923, in Stockton, California. He developed his tireless work ethic early, starting at age eight in his father's restaurant, rising before dawn to help prepare pastries before attending school. In 1951, Spanos borrowed $800, purchased a truck and set out on his own. He began his own catering business and later began investing in real estate. In 1960 he formed the A.G. Spanos Construction Company.

Another side to this complex man was revealed with the help of his close friend Bob Hope. Spanos displayed an entertainer's talent and flair when he lived a childhood dream and danced on stage. Together, Spanos and Hope sang and danced on numerous occasions both in the United States and abroad.

Spanos' acquisition of the Chargers culminated a lifelong interest and involvement in sports. He earned varsity letters in swimming and diving at the University of the Pacific in Stockton and later distinguished himself as an amateur golfer. Spanos was the first person ever to be on the winning teams in both the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Desert (1977) and the Bob Hope British Pro-Am in Epsom, England (1980).

Alex and his wife, Faye, are celebrating 55 years of marriage this year (Aug. 22). The couple has four children – Dean, Dea (Mrs. Ron Berberian), Alexis (Mrs. Barry Ruhl), and Michael – and 15 grandchildren. They maintain residences in Stockton and Palm Springs, California, and Tarpon Springs, Florida.

DEAN A. SPANOS

President - Chief Executive Officer

Dean Spanos stood at the helm and expertly navigated the Chargers through a very trying period in team history.

The organization lost its architect and Dean lost a close friend in April when General Manager John Butler passed away following a nine-month battle with cancer. A loss of such magnitude could have had a devastating emotional and psychological impact on a close-knit organization like the Chargers, but Spanos' calming influence and leadership orchestrated a smooth and seamless transition from Butler to new General Manager A.J. Smith.

Despite a trying offseason, Spanos has managed to keep optimism high.

The hiring of Smith as general manager was key. By elevating Smith from Assistant General Manager & Director of Pro Personnel, the philosophy and hierarchy of the organization remained status quo. His long NFL tenure combined with his 21-year association with Butler made Smith the logical and unquestioned choice.

Along with changes in the front office, the normal comings and goings on the team's roster provided plenty of excitement heading into the 2003 season.

Dean and his father, Alex, once again provided the financial backing to give Smith and Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer the means to improve the team. The most prominent addition came when the Chargers signed Pro Bowl wide receiver David Boston to a $40 million contract. Every time his staff asked, Spanos provided by signing top free agents, including Boston, fullback Lorenzo Neal, tackle Solomon Page and safety Kwamie Lassiter.

Spanos' commitment is no surprise as his guiding hand has been felt throughout the Chargers' organization and the entire San Diego community since the day he moved his family to La Jolla in 1984.

From 5-11 in 2001 to 8-8 in 2002, Spanos is confident that his leadership team will prove the difference as the Chargers push to the Super Bowl in 2003. Spanos believes that having the best front office gives a team the best chance to win. His confidence comes from having an experienced and trusted football man as general manager (Smith), a proven head coach (Schottenheimer) with a winning track record in the National Football League, and one of league's top salary cap experts (V.P. of Football Operations Ed McGuire).

Spanos believes he found the best coach for his team on January 29, 2002, when he named Schottenheimer the 13th head coach in team history. With 161 regular-season wins in 16-1/2 seasons as an NFL head coach, Schottenheimer ranks second among active coaches in career wins.

"We were looking for someone who has proven he knows how to win on this level, and Marty fit the bill perfectly," said Spanos.

Spanos' leadership can be felt throughout the community. The reason for his heartfelt bond with San Diego is simple: Dean has proudly called America's Finest City home since 1984.

"We've been here for almost 20 years," said Spanos. "Susie and I have raised our kids here. This is our home."

Few NFL owners or businessmen of any kind are as involved in every aspect of their company's inner workings as Spanos. He has been overseeing the business and football operations of the San Diego Chargers since taking over as President-CEO in 1994. He is responsible for the management and administration of personnel and all fiscal matters of the Chargers. He also plays a prominent role in league affairs and represents the team at all league meetings.

After his father purchased majority interest in the team on Aug. 1, 1984, Dean was the man behind the scenes for the Chargers while serving as President of all Spanos corporate entities and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation. For 31 years, Dean has been working alongside his father in apartment construction and land development in the family-owned business. He shares the responsibility with his brother Michael for all construction operations nationwide and all financial matters relating to the acquisition and development of projects for the Spanos organization.

In addition to his role in the Spanos Corporation, Dean assumed the day-to-day operations of the Chargers in January 1994. He now carries the full responsibility of running both organizations.

The Chargers didn't wait long to enjoy the benefits of Dean's guidance. In January 1995, the Chargers were playing in Super Bowl XXIX in Miami, Florida.

In addition to running the football organization, he has continued the long-standing tradition of community support by the Spanos family and the Chargers. In March 2000, Dean announced a huge five-year program entitled "Chargers Champions" that encompasses the team's ongoing support of youth, education and youth sports as well as other community service programs.

Chargers Champions benefits students, schools and educators that are "making the difference" for San Diego's future. In each of the past four offseasons at the annual San Diego Chargers All-Star Gala, 22 outstanding high-school juniors have been awarded $7,000 scholarships and laptop computers. Since 2001, Chargers Champions has awarded grants to schools as well as grants and laptops to San Diego's most deserving teachers and coaches. This five-year commitment of more than $3 million in educational scholarships and grants is unmatched in San Diego.

Local students received a giant boost when the Spanos family and Chargers Champions supplied the initial funding to organize the first-ever freshman football and volleyball programs in the 16 San Diego City high schools in 2000. This major public-private partnership provided more than 1,000 extracurricular opportunities annually for students. These opportunities enhance academic achievement, self-discipline, self-esteem and school attendance.

San Diego County schools have also benefited financially from the Chargers' generosity. In 1998 the Chargers created the "Touchdowns for Youth" program to reward students who have outstanding attendance. By using Chargers tickets as incentives, schools in San Diego County realized an increase in state funding (based on "average daily attendance") of nearly $10 million.

Another huge economic benefit to the community came in 1998 when Dean and his father secured Super Bowl XXXVII for the City of San Diego. It marked the second time in five years that the City of San Diego has enjoyed the huge financial windfall that comes from hosting a Super Bowl. Super Bowl XXXVII in January brought more than $300 million to the San Diego economy.

Dean is a major contributor throughout the San Diego business and civic communities. He is an emeritus member of the board of directors for the San Diego International Sports Council, a group of San Diego business executives committed to promote and enhance economic development through sports of all kinds in San Diego. Dean also served on the boards of the San Diego Economic Development Corporation, the Greater San Diego Chamber of Commerce and the San Diego Inner-City Games. He also has been a major contributor and supporter of Children's Hospital, the American Cancer Society, the Huntington's Disease Society of America and the United Way.

Dean and his wife Susie's generosity will be appreciated nationally when the Huntington's Disease Society of America presents them with their top award, the Harold Leventhal Community Service Award.

In 2002, Dean earned the unique distinction of being a second-generation recipient of the prestigious Ellis Island Medal of Honor, accepting the award 16 years after his father Alex was similarly honored. The award recognizes distinguished Americans for their commitment to freedom, diversity and opportunity.

Dean also was inducted into the DeMolay International Alumni Hall of Fame in 2002. DeMolay International is an organization dedicated to preparing young men to lead successful and productive lives.

In 2001, the San Diego Hall of Champions Sports Museum presented Dean and Susie with their Community Champions Award, the Hall's most prestigious award.

Dean's busy career in business and the National Football League hasn't hampered his status as one of the nation's most successful amateur golfers. An avid golfer since his college years, he has been on the winning team in five Pro-Am tournaments, including back-to-back wins in 1990 at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach with partner Hubert Green. He successfully defended his title at the Hope Classic in 1991. Spanos and Green also won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach in 1985, where

Dean was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner. His first win came in the 1985 Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am in Dallas, teaming with with Billy Casper.

Dean Alexander Spanos was born May 26, 1950, in Stockton. He earned varsity letters in football and golf at Lincoln High School in Stockton. Dean received the Lincoln High Hall of Fame Award, which honors alumni whose contributions and accomplishments are representative of the school. He was recognized for his achievements in the areas of business and athletics. Dean continued his golfing career at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California. He graduated in 1972 with a degree in business administration. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, having served as a regent at the University.

Dean and Susie reside in La Jolla, California. Susie received one of San Diego's most prestigious awards in 2001 when she was honored as a "Woman of Dedication" by the Salvation Army. She also has been named the Woman of the Year by the San Diego Leukemia Society for her philanthropic work in the community. Susie is active in and on the board of many charitable organizations in San Diego. She has been a driving force in supporting the San Diego Blood Bank and its umbilical cord blood program, helping the Chargers' annual blood drive become one of the most successful in the nation.

Spanos' oldest son, Alexander Gus (July 2, 1978), is a graduate of the business school at the University of Southern California. He is the Chargers' Assistant Director of Marketing. As a freshman, A.G. attended Tufts University in Medford, Mass., where he was a member of the football team. In high school he received six varsity letters as a two-sport athlete (basketball and football) at La Jolla Country Day School. Son John Dean (Nov. 7, 1979) graduated from Wake Forest University with a degree in business in 2002. He worked as an intern in the NFL's Management Council office in New York during the 2002 season and joined the Chargers' scouting department this year as a college and pro scout. He has spent seven years working in the Chargers' organization, mostly in the player personnel department, and one summer as an intern at the league office. While at The Bishop's School in La Jolla, he earned nine varsity letters in a variety of sports, including football, basketball and golf, and played on three championship teams.

MICHAEL A. SPANOS

Executive Vice President

Michael A. Spanos, 44, became Executive Vice President of the Chargers in 1995. In that capacity, he assists in the financial and management matters pertaining to the organization. Michael joins his father, owner Alex Spanos, and brother Dean, team President and Chief Executive Officer, in steering the direction of the organization.

Michael is also in his 20th year as the Executive Vice President of the A.G. Spanos Companies. As the person most responsible for the construction and development activities of the organization, Michael oversees all of the office divisions around the country. His responsibilities extend to the areas of property management, land acquisition, and future direction and growth of the company's construction activities. From the company headquarters in Stockton, Michael travels weekly across the country to monitor and manage building projects in several states.

Born in Stockton, California in 1959, he attended Lincoln High School and graduated from the University of the Pacific, where he earned a bachelor's degree in business administration. In 1989, Michael was appointed to the Board of Regents at the University of the Pacific, where he served for five years. He has also served as a trustee on the Board of Dameron Hospital where he represented his family's interest in quality health services. Michael continues to contribute both his time and resources to the development of several projects involving youth sports and education. He and his wife, Helen, reside with their five children in Stockton.

MARK FABIANI

Special Counsel to the President

Mark Fabiani joined the Chargers as Special Counsel to the President in April 2002. In his role with the club, Fabiani's primary function is to work with the San Diego community to explore opportunities for a new state-of-the-art football stadium in the San Diego region.

Fabiani's La Jolla-based company provides strategic advice and tactical execution to companies and individuals facing complex financial, marketing, communications and legal challenges.

In 2000, Fabiani served as the Deputy Campaign Manager for Communications and Strategy for former Vice President Al Gore's presidential campaign, in the closest presidential election in modern history. Fabiani was responsible for coordinating the campaign's communications and media strategies and tactics, including for the Vice President's post-election Florida vote count effort. Fabiani also served as the campaign's chief spokesperson, appearing daily on national television broadcasts.

Prior to serving under Gore, Fabiani held the position of Special Counsel to President Bill Clinton through the 1996 presidential campaign. Fabiani provided legal, communications and political counsel to the President and First Lady of the United States on allegations and investigations of Whitewater and other related matters. As part of his duties Fabiani produced and communicated the legal, legislative, and political responses to inquiries from the media, Capitol Hill and investigative agencies. In this role, Fabiani also served as the White House's principle spokesperson before the national media, appearing regularly on major news shows.

Fabiani's experience with complex problem resolution also includes four years of service as Deputy Mayor of Los Angeles and Chief of Staff to Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley. In that post Fabiani managed political strategy, media relations, policy analysis and an executive staff of 129 for the Mayor. Fabiani directed day-to-day interaction between the Mayor's office and the media, general managers of city departments, the City Council, and the city's principle private sector companies and public sector institutions. Fabiani also played a central role in preparing and negotiating the city's $3.9 billion annual budget.

Fabiani, who graduated cum laude from Harvard Law School in 1982, also has served in senior positions at the United States Department of Justice and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. As a Deputy Assistant Attorney General at the Justice Department, Fabiani was responsible for policy development for the Attorney General. As Deputy Assistant Secretary at HUD, Fabiani implemented the federal government's Empowerment Zone Initiative for urban revitalization.

Mark Domenic Fabiani was born May 31, 1957 in Ellwood City, Pennsylvania. He earned a bachelor's degree in philosophy from the University of Redlands. Mark and wife, June, have two children — Joseph (March 20, 1996) and Isabella (April 30, 1999) — and reside in La Jolla.

A.J. SMITH

Executive Vice President - General Manager

19th NFL Season,
5th with Chargers

Tuesday, April 22, 2003 was a bittersweet day when Chargers President Dean Spanos promoted A.J. Smith to Executive Vice President-General Manager.

Smith, 54, was being tabbed to fill the position formerly held by his close friend and longtime associate John Butler, who lost his battle with lymphoma on April 11.

"John (Butler) and I talked shortly after he was diagnosed," said Spanos. "We both agreed that if John couldn't be here, his successor was already in place. A.J. is the perfect man for the job.

"A.J.'s experience, both in the NFL and in our system, made him the ideal candidate. In the two years that John was our general manager, he created a terrific infrastructure for our front office. A.J. was the first and most important person that John hired. When the right man is already in place, it makes for a logical and seamless transition."

Spanos added: "We've upgraded our personnel tremendously over the last two years. We have a head coach who agrees philosophically with our personnel department. I think continuity is the key for the Chargers right now."

Smith has worked in professional football since 1977. Including three years in the United States Football League in the early 1980s, he has spent the past 26 years evaluating professional and college football players, including 23 seasons in the National Football League.

"This is a job I've prepared for my entire professional life," said Smith. "I'm grateful to Dean for this opportunity. No one could ever completely fill John's shoes, but one thing is certain; I'm going to do everything in my power to help this team return to the playoffs and the Super Bowl."

After Butler's passing, Spanos immediately put Smith in charge of handling the 2003 draft for the Chargers.

Smith didn't waste any time putting his personal stamp on his first draft when he traded the Chargers' first-round pick to Philadelphia to move down in the round and acquire an extra second-round pick from the Eagles. By the end of the second round, Smith had bolstered the Chargers' defensive secondary with the selections of cornerbacks Sammy Davis from Texas A&M and Drayton Florence of Tuskegee, and safety Terrence Kiel, also from Texas A&M. In the third and fourth rounds, Smith secured Courtney Van Buren, a massive offensive tackle from Arkansas-Pine Bluff, and Matt Wilhelm, a starting linebacker from the Ohio State Buckeyes 2003 National Championship team.

Smith rounded out his first draft with the Bolts by selecting punter Mike Scifres from Western Illinois, one of college football's leading punters, hard-hitting safety Hanik Milligan from Houston and fullback Andrew Pinnock from South Carolina.

"John and I had talked long ago of our confidence in A.J.'s ability to lead us through the draft in the event John was unable to be there," said Spanos. "As someone who has worked side-by-side with John for 21 years, we know the procedures that have been successful for us over the past two drafts will continue. Just as John had always done, now A.J. will make the final decisions."

Smith also showed a penchant for free agency with one of the team's top classes in recent memory. The cream of the crop is Pro Bowl wide receiver David Boston from the Arizona Cardinals. The fifth-year pro has already had two 1,000-yard seasons, including a career year in 2000 when he racked up 1,598 yards and eight touchdowns. The offense was further bolstered with Smith's signings of Pro Bowl fullback Lorenzo Neal and tackle Solomon Page. Neal, who came from Cincinnati, has been a lead blocker for six straight 1,000-yard rushers, and Page is a 330 pounder who lined up at both guard and tackle for the Dallas Cowboys.

On the defense, Smith pulled another big fish out of the NFL free agency pool with the signing of safety Kwamie Lassiter from the Arizona Cardinals. The 33-year-old Lassiter started every game over the last four seasons and racked up 24 career interceptions to go along with 709 tackles. He was one of the NFL's most sought after free agents.

Smith began his second tenure with the Chargers on January 18, 2001 when Butler named him assistant general manager and director of pro personnel. His duties included monitoring NFL transactions, evaluating pro talent, handling tryouts, free agent contracts and assisting Butler.

Prior to his return to the Chargers in 2001, Smith spent 14 seasons working for the Buffalo Bills. He originally joined the Bills as an area scout in 1987 and was named assistant director of collegiate scouting in 1989. In 1993, Smith was elevated to director of pro personnel.

Before joining the Bills, Smith served as the Chargers pro personnel director from 1985-86. He also held scouting positions with the USFL's Chicago Blitz (1982-83) and Pittsburgh Maulers (1984). He began his NFL career in 1977 as an unpaid, volunteer, part-time scout for the New York Giants under the direction of Jim Trimble. From there he moved on to become a part-time scout for the New England Patriots (1978-80) and Houston Oilers (1981).

Smith made his start in football as an assistant coach at Cranston West High School in Cranston, Rhode Island from 1971-76. He was the head coach of the Rhode Island Kings of the Eastern Football League in 1976 and an assistant coach at the University of Rhode Island in 1978.

Albert John Smith was born February 28, 1949. He is a graduate of Bishop Hendricken High School in Warwick, Rhode Island. He earned a degree in health and physical education from Kentucky Wesleyan College in 1971.

Smith played semi-pro football as a wide receiver with the Attleboro (Mass.) Kings of the Eastern Football League from 1972-74 and had a tryout with the Washington Redskins in 1974. Smith was inducted into the Minor/Semi-Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1990. He also taught health and physical education in the Providence (R.I.) junior high school system from 1971-85.

Smith and his wife, Susan, have two children, daughter, Andrea (Sept. 3, 1982) and son, Kyle (Oct. 15, 1984). Andrea is a senior outside hitter on the Cortland State (N.Y.) volleyball team and Kyle is a sophomore wide receiver at Youngstown State. The Smiths reside in the Sorrento Valley area of San Diego.

BUDDY NIX

Assistant General Manager - Director of Player Personnel

11th NFL Season, 3rd with Chargers

Executive Vice President-General Manager A.J. Smith promoted Buddy Nix to the position of Assistant General Manager-Director of Player Personnel, June 2, 2003.

Nix previously held the title of Director of Player Personnel for the last two seasons. He will now oversee both the pro and college scouting departments, as well as assisting Smith on all personnel matters.

Nix has been evaluating NFL and college talent for 10 years. He joined the Chargers in 2001 after eight seasons (1993-2000) as a scout with the Buffalo Bills, where he worked with Smith and former General Manager John Butler.

From 1984-92, Nix was the head coach at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. Prior to his nine seasons at UTC, Nix's collegiate career included stops as an assistant coach at Louisiana State (1981-83), Auburn (1976-80), Southern Mississippi (1972-75), Livingston (1970-71) and Carson Newman (1969). In 1971, Livingston won the Division II National Championship. Nix was the defensive coordinator on the Tigers' staff, under head coach Mickey Andrews, who has been the defensive coordinator at Florida State since 1984.

Nix's coaching career began in 1961 as a graduate assistant at the University of Alabama. That year the Crimson Tide finished 11-0 and defeated Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl en route to a National Championship. Nix later held coaching positions at Anniston (1962-64) and Eufaula (1964-67) High Schools in Alabama, and Jonesboro High School (1967-69) in Georgia.

Nix was born on Dec. 6, 1939, in Carbon Hill, Alabama. He attended Talladega High School and played linebacker and fullback at Livingston University. In 1983, Nix was inducted into Livingston's Hall of Fame. Buddy and wife, Diann, have three children, Steve (Feb. 13, 1965), Stan (June 26, 1967) and Stacey (Oct. 29, 1973). ## ED McGUIRE

Vice President of Football Operations

16th NFL Season, 6th with Chargers

After two seasons as the Chargers Coordinator of Football Operations, Ed McGuire was promoted by team President Dean Spanos to Vice President of Football Operations during the 2000 offseason.

McGuire is in charge of all football operations for the Chargers. He oversees all player contract negotiations as well as the day-to-day business and administrative operations of the scouting department, coaching department, equipment and video departments, training staff, and strength and conditioning staff.

McGuire originally joined the Chargers in 1998 as Coordinator of Football Operations where he oversaw the day-to-day operations of the player personnel department and handled player contract negotiations. He also monitored the players' payroll in regards to the NFL's salary cap.

McGuire served as the senior manager of labor operations for the NFL's Management Council from 1996-98. Prior to that, he was the league's manager of player personnel from 1991-96. He originally joined the NFL in 1987 as a player personnel analyst. Before coming to the NFL, McGuire worked in the personnel department for the United States Football League from 1984-86.

During his tenure in the league office, McGuire became a leading expert on the NFL's salary cap and Collective Bargaining Agreement, created in 1993 between the NFL and the NFL Players' Association.

"Ed's low-key personality belies one of the NFL's bright young minds," said NFL Executive Vice President of Labor Relations Harold Henderson. "He helped develop and administer the intricate details of the Collective Bargaining Agreement and the salary cap. The Chargers are fortunate to have Ed."

Born January 18, 1962, in Riverhead, New York, McGuire graduated with a degree in athletic administration in 1984 from St. John's University in Jamaica, New York. He played football and baseball at Riverhead High School.

McGuire and his wife, Jane, have two children, son Kevin (Aug. 8, 1993) and daughter, Shannon (May 9, 1997) and reside in Rancho Bernardo, California.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

Head Coach

27th NFL Season,
2nd with Chargers

When Chargers President Dean Spanos and former General Manager John Butler began their search for a new head coach following the 2001 season, they had one requirement: "We're looking for a proven winner...someone who knows how to win."

The Chargers got just that when they officially introduced Marty Schottenheimer as the 13th head coach in team history on January 29, 2002.

"Winning is everything in our business. Winning is our bottom line," said Owner and Chairman of the Board Alex Spanos. "In Marty Schottenheimer, we hired a winner. We feel fortunate to get a coach with his winning resume. When he was in charge of the Chiefs, I used to hate playing against them. I can't tell you how happy I am that he's on our side."

Under Schottenheimer's guidance, the Bolts got off to a ferocious start in 2002, running off four straight wins to open the season. Schottenheimer matched his best-ever start for a season and became the only coach in Chargers history to win his first four games as head coach. No other coach in team history ever won more than one game to begin his tenure with the team.

With 161 regular-season victories in 16 and a half seasons as an NFL head coach, Schottenheimer ranks second among active coaches in career wins to Atlanta's Dan Reeves, who has 187 wins in 22 seasons. Schottenheimer ranks ninth on the NFL's all-time list for career-regular season wins. He trails Paul Brown, who is eighth with 166 career wins. Don Shula is the NFL's all-time leader with 328 career victories.

Schottenheimer's regular-season winning percentage of .614 ranks fifth among active coaches with two or more seasons in the NFL. Only Green Bay's Mike Sherman (.688), St. Louis' Mike Martz (.646), Tampa Bay's Jon Gruden (.625) and Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher (.622) have winning percentages higher than Schottenheimer's.

This is Schottenheimer's fourth stint as an NFL head coach, having previously guided the Cleveland Browns (1984-88), Kansas City Chiefs (1989-98) and most recently the Washington Redskins (2001). Schottenheimer has compiled a record of 161-101-1 in regular-season action.

The 59-year-old Schottenheimer has led his teams to the playoffs 11 times, more than any other active NFL coach. Since 1960, only four coaches have done it more; Don Shula (19), Tom Landry (18), Chuck Noll (12) and Bud Grant (12). All four have been enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Schottenheimer is tied for fifth in league history with 11 playoff appearances.

From 1986-97 as head coach of the Browns and Chiefs, Schottenheimer led his teams to 12 straight winning seasons and 10 trips to the playoffs. He led six of his teams to division titles, including the Browns in 1985, '86 and '87, and the Chiefs in 1993, '95 and '97. Including the playoffs, Schottenheimer has a combined record of 166-112-1 (.597) as an NFL head coach.

Prior to coaching the Redskins in 2001, Schottenheimer worked for two years (1999-2000) as an NFL analyst for ESPN.

From 1989-98, Schottenheimer spent 10 seasons as head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs. During his tenure, the Chiefs posted a 101-58-1 regular-season record for a .634 winning percentage, which was the second highest in the NFL during that time span. Only San Francisco (.769) had a higher winning percentage than Schottenheimer's Chiefs. In his 10 seasons in Kansas City, Schottenheimer's teams averaged 10 wins per season and advanced to the playoffs seven times, making the Chiefs one of the AFC's most dominant teams of the '90s.

The Chiefs were particularly dominant at home under Schottenheimer, where their 62-18 (.775) record from 1989-98 was the third-best in the NFL behind San Francisco

67-13 (.838) and Denver 63-17 (.788). The Chiefs and 49ers were the only teams in the NFL to reach the playoffs seven times in the '90s and from 1989-97 the Chiefs finished either first or second in the AFC West, a nine-year stretch matched only by the Pittsburgh Steelers (1971-79) since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970.

Under Schottenheimer's guidance, the Chiefs posted the AFC's best records in 1995 and '97 at 13-3. Prior to that in 1990, he led the Chiefs to an 11-5 mark, the team's best record in 21 years, and into the postseason for just the second time since 1971 and the first time since 1986. In 1993, the Chiefs had their finest season since 1969 when Schottenheimer led the team to a record of 11-5, their first division title since 1971 and a berth in the AFC Championship Game.

In 1997, the Chiefs finished the season with an NFL regular-season best-record of 13-3, giving Kansas City its third AFC West title in five years. Schottenheimer's Chiefs were consistently among the league's best in five crucial areas: winning percentage in the division, winning percentage at home, forcing turnovers, rushing offense and scoring defense.

Schottenheimer had a strong hold on the AFC West during his 10 seasons as the head coach in Kansas City, as evidenced by his 55-28 (.663) record within the division. His success included an outstanding mark of 18-3 (.857) against the Chargers' biggest rival, the Oakland Raiders.

Strong defense has been one of the trademarks of Schottenheimer's teams. His teams have consistently ranked in the upper-half of the NFL in total defense, scoring defense and turnover ratio. Dating back to his first full season as a head coach in Cleveland in 1985, Schottenheimer's teams have been ranked in the league's Top 10 in total defense eight times and in scoring defense nine times, including the 1995 and '97 seasons when the Chiefs led the league in scoring defense.

His Kansas City teams were known for their ball-hawking defense as evidenced by the Chiefs' plus-99 turnover ratio under Schottenheimer's tutelage. (During that time period, the New York Giants ranked second in the league with a plus-77 turnover ratio, 22 fewer than the Chiefs.) In his 10 seasons with the Chiefs, Schottenheimer's teams ranked in the NFL's top five in turnover ratio seven times, including the 1990, '92 and '95 seasons when they led the entire league. Kansas City set an NFL record by recording a plus-10 turnover ratio in six consecutive seasons from 1990-95.

Prior to his successful stint in Kansas City, Schottenheimer spent four and a half seasons as the head coach of the Cleveland Browns from 1984 to 1988. During the four full seasons (1985-88) in which he was head coach of the Browns, Schottenheimer produced four playoff berths, three AFC Central titles, and two AFC Championship game appearances. In his first full season as head coach, he led the Browns to the AFC Central Division title. The following season, he earned consensus NFL Coach of the Year honors after leading his team to a 12-4 regular-season record, a second-consecutive division title and a trip to the AFC Championship game.

He led the Browns back to the AFC title game again in 1987, but for the second year in a row, his Browns were defeated by the Denver Broncos. Schottenheimer left the Browns after the 1988 season, finishing his career in Cleveland with a 44-27 (.620) regular-season record and a 2-4 (.333) mark in the playoffs.

Schottenheimer's coaching career started with the Portland Storm of the World Football League in 1974. He began that season as one of the team's linebackers, but a shoulder injury ended his playing career and he remained with the team as an assistant coach, tutoring the Storm's linebackers.

In 1975, he landed his first NFL coaching job as the linebackers coach for the New York Giants. He was brought on board by Bill Arnsparger, the Chargers' defensive coordinator during their Super Bowl season in 1994, who returned to San Diego in 2002 as the team's Associate Head Coach-Defense. After two seasons (1975-76) as linebackers coach, Schottenheimer was named the Giants' defensive coordinator.

After one season (1977) as the Giants' defensive coordinator, Schottenheimer became the linebackers coach for the Detroit Lions for two seasons (1978-79). In 1980, he took over as the defensive coordinator for the Cleveland Browns. Schottenheimer became Cleveland's head coach midway through the 1984 season, taking over for Sam Rutigliano on Oct. 22, 1984 after the Browns had a 1-7 start. He went on to lead the Browns to a 4-4 record in the remaining eight games during his first half-season as an NFL head coach.

Schottenheimer began his professional football career on the playing field. After a career as an All-America linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, he was selected in the fourth round of the 1965 NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts and in the seventh round of the AFL draft by the Buffalo Bills. He signed with the Bills, playing in Buffalo from 1965-68. As a rookie, Schottenheimer got his first taste of a professional football championship when the Bills won the AFL Championship with a 23-0 victory over the San Diego Chargers on Dec. 26, 1965.

After his stint with the Bills, he joined the Boston Patriots in 1969, playing two seasons before being traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1971. After spending the 1971 training camp with the Steelers, Schottenheimer was traded to the Colts, and he retired shortly thereafter.

Before starting his coaching career, Schottenheimer worked in real estate in Miami and Denver from 1971-74.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Schottenheimer was selected as a member of the school's All-Time Team, in addition to being named an All-America. He played in the 1965 College All-Star Game at Soldier Field in Chicago, where the Cleveland Browns defeated the All-Stars, 24-16. In that game, Schottenheimer played alongside Dick Butkus, Fred Biletnikoff, Roger Staubach, Bob Hayes and Bill Curry.

Schottenheimer's athletic career began at Ft. Cherry High School in McDonald, Pennsylvania where he was an honors student and a standout on the football and basketball teams. He was an All-Western Pennsylvania linebacker and the center on the school's state championship basketball team. After high school, Schottenheimer continued his career at the University of Pittsburgh, where he earned a degree in English.

Schottenheimer is a licensed pilot and flew with the Navy's Blue Angels in February of 1992 and the Air Force's Thunderbirds in July of 1997.

Born on September 23, 1943 in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, Schottenheimer and his wife, Pat, have two children, Kristen (Feb. 17, 1970) and Brian (Oct. 16, 1973), and one grandchild, Brandon (April 20, 2001). Brian is a former University of Florida quarterback who was also on Marty's coaching staffs with the Chiefs (1998) and Redskins (2001). He is currently the Chargers' quarterbacks coach. Marty's brother, Kurt, also was on his staffs in Cleveland (1986-88), Kansas City (1989-2000) and Washington (2001) before joining the Detroit Lions as their defensive coordinator in 2002.

ASSISTANT COACHES

CAM CAMERON

Offensive Coordinator

5th NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

Cam Cameron is in his second season as the Chargers offensive coordinator. He was named to the post by Marty Schottenheimer on February 22, 2002.

Cameron's offense in 2002 featured a record setting performance by running back LaDainian Tomlinson and a 3,000-yard passer in Drew Brees. Tomlinson rushed for a team-record 1,683 yards and 14 touchdowns, while Brees passed for 3,284 yards and 17 touchdowns.

Both Tomlinson and Brees should continue to flourish in Cameron's offensive system and the offense should be even more explosive in 2003 with the addition of wide receiver David Boston from the Arizona Cardinals.

Cameron is in his second stint in the NFL. From 1994-96 he was the quarterbacks coach for the Washington Redskins working under then Head Coach Norv Turner, who spent 2001 as the Chargers offensive coordinator. Cameron and Turner have very similar offensive philosophies.

Cameron joined the Chargers after spending five seasons (1997-2001) as the head coach at Indiana University, where he had a record of 18-37. In 2001, the Hoosiers finished with a 5-6 overall record, 4-4 in the Big Ten Conference, Cameron's best mark at the school. The 2001 ledger included impressive wins over Wisconsin, Michigan State and rival Purdue. Under Cameron's direction, the Hoosiers featured the nation's fourth-ranked rushing offense (269.5 yards per game) and were ranked 19th nationally in total offense (435.3 yards per game).

At Indiana, Cameron helped develop quarterback Antwaan Randle El, a first-team All-America selection by the Football Writers Association of America in 2001. Randle El, the NCAA Division I-A rushing leader among quarterbacks, finished his career as the only player in major college football history to score 40 touchdowns and pass for 40 touchdowns. Randle El finished sixth in the 2001 Heisman Trophy voting. Indiana's offense in 2001 also featured senior running back Levron Williams, a unanimous first-team All-Big Ten selection.

In 2000, the Hoosiers were also ranked among the nation's offensive leaders, averaging 30.6 points and 439.5 yards of total offense per game. They led the Big Ten Conference with 266.4 yards per game rushing and the team's average of 5.8 yards per carry ranked second nationally behind the University of Nebraska.

Prior to his arrival at Indiana, Cameron spent three seasons as the quarterbacks coach with the Redskins, serving under Norv Turner. In Washington, Cameron helped the Redskins improve dramatically as the team went from a 3-13 record in his first season to 9-7 just two years later. Cameron was largely credited with the development of quarterback Gus Frerotte, who was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1997.

Before hooking up with Turner in Washington, Cameron spent 10 seasons (1984-93) as an assistant coach at the University of Michigan. He spent the first two years in Ann Arbor serving as a graduate assistant before being elevated to coach the Wolverines' wide receivers from 1986-89 and the quarterbacks and wide receivers from 1990-93. During his 10 seasons at Michigan, the Wolverines captured six Big Ten Conference championships and played in 10 bowl games, including five Rose Bowls. Cameron helped cultivate such NFL talents as Jim Harbaugh, Elvis Grbac, Desmond Howard, Derrick Alexander and Amani Toomer.

For Cameron, the move into coaching was a natural fit. His stepfather, Tom Harp, was the head coach at Cornell (1961-65), Duke (1966-70) and Indiana State (1973-77). Cameron and Harp each have the unique distinction of coaching a Heisman Trophy winner. Cameron coached Desmond Howard at Michigan and Harp was an assistant coach at West Point when Pete Dawkins claimed the trophy in 1958.

Before he moved into coaching, Cameron had a successful collegiate career as a two-sport letter winner in football and basketball at Indiana. He lettered two years at quarterback and three in basketball before a football knee injury in his senior year put an end to his playing career. He graduated from Indiana in 1983 with a degree in business.

Cam Cameron was born on February 6, 1961 in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. While his stepfather coached at Indiana State, Cameron was a prep standout at South High School in Terre Haute, Indiana. He was an All-America selection in football as a senior and earned all-state honors twice and all-county honors three times. He was named Vigo County's Athlete of the Year in 1978 and 1979. Cameron led his team to three consecutive state basketball finals and in 1979 was named the recipient of the state's prestigious Trester Award for mental attitude. In 1979, he was also named National Athlete of the Year by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes

Cameron and his wife, Missy, have four children, including three sons, Tommy (Feb. 13, 1994), Danny (Dec. 21, 1995) and Christopher (April 17, 1998), and daughter, Elizabeth (Oct. 28, 2000).

DALE LINDSEY

Defensive Coordinator

26th NFL Season, 7th with Chargers

A familiar face from the Chargers' successful defensive staff of the mid-1990s took over the Bolts' defense when Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer named Dale Lindsey defensive coordinator on February 7, 2002.

Lindsey's defense in 2002 was built around middle linebacker Donnie Edwards, who led the team with 129 tackles and five interceptions, and was selected to play in his first-career Pro Bowl.

From 1992-96, Lindsey was the linebackers coach on the Chargers' defensive staff that helped guide the team to two AFC West titles (1992 and '94), three playoff appearances (1992, '94 and '95) and one AFC Championship (1994).

Lindsey's resume includes 28 years of coaching experience. Sixteen of those seasons have been in the National Football League, and if you include nine years of playing experience as a linebacker with the Cleveland Browns from 1965-73, Lindsey's tenure in the NFL has spanned 25 seasons.

Lindsey rejoined the Chargers after spending three seasons (1999-2001) as the linebackers coach for the Chicago Bears. In 2001, the Bears finished with a record of 13-3 on their way to an NFC Central title. It was the Bears first division title since 1990 and first trip to the playoffs since 1994.

During his tenure in Chicago, Lindsey oversaw the development of one of the youngest starting linebacking corps in the NFL, including the NFL's 2000 Defensive Rookie of Year and Pro Bowler Brian Urlacher, who shattered the Bears' rookie record for sacks (eight) and tackles (165) in a season. It was the most stops by a Bears linebacker since 1993.

In 2001, the Bears' defense was particularly stingy against the run, ranking first in the NFC and second in the entire NFL by limiting opponents to 82.1 rushing yards per game. Only Pittsburgh allowed fewer yards per game on the ground (74.7) in 2001.

Prior to his stint in Chicago, Lindsey spent two seasons (1997-98) as the linebackers coach for the Washington Redskins.

From 1965-73, Lindsey played middle linebacker for the Cleveland Browns. Following his retirement in 1973, Lindsey jumped right into the coaching ranks and became the Browns linebackers coach in 1974. In 1975, he took a job coaching linebackers for the Portland Storm of the World Football League. Lindsey spent a year away from the game in 1976 before returning to the coaching ranks in 1977 for two years as the head coach at Warren Central High School in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

Lindsey returned to the professional coaching ranks in 1979, joining the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League as the team's linebackers coach, a post he maintained through the 1982 season. His coaching career then took him into his fourth professional league when the United States Football League kicked off in 1983. Lindsey coached the linebackers for the Boston Breakers (1983) before taking over as the defensive coordinator for the New Jersey Generals from 1984-85.

Lindsey returned to the National Football League in 1986, serving as the linebackers coach for Green Bay Packers. He remained in Green Bay until 1988, al which time he followed Forrest Gregg to Southern Methodist University, serving as the Mustangs defensive coordinator for two seasons (1988-89).

In 1990, the NFL came calling once again, and Lindsey was named the defensive line coach for the New England Patriots. In 1991, he took over as linebackers coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers for one season before joining the Chargers in the same capacity in 1992.

Phillip Dale Lindsey was born on January 18, 1943 in Bedford, Indiana. He grew up in Bowling Green, Kentucky, where he participated in football, basketball and track at Bowling Green High School. His collegiate playing career took him to Western Kentucky, where he was a first-team Little All-America selection as a senior linebacker and was twice named All-Ohio Valley conference. Lindsey was inducted into the Western Kentucky Hall of Fame in 1993.

After his collegiate playing career, Lindsey was drafted by both the NFL's Cleveland Browns in the seventh round and the AFL's New York Jets (sixth round of the Red Shirt draft) in 1965, eventually signing with the Browns.

Dale and his wife, Eva, have five children, Blan (Sept. 6, 1963), Jennifer (March 6, 1965), Kim (July 19, 1967), Johnny (Sept. 25, 1973) and Derek (May 29, 1975).

TIM BREWSTER

Tight Ends

2nd NFL Season,
2nd with Chargers

Tim Brewster, who has 14 years of college coaching experience, is about to begin his second season as the Chargers tight ends coach.

During his first campaign with the Bolts, Brewster worked with veteran tight end Stephen Alexander, the team's fourth-leading receiver, while overseeing the development of rookies Josh Norman and Justin Peelle.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Brewster spent four seasons (1998-2001) as the tight ends coach at the University of Texas and nine seasons (1989-97) at the University of North Carolina.

Before entering the collegiate coaching ranks, Brewster was the head coach at Central Catholic High School in Lafayette, Indiana from 1987-88. Brewster started his coaching career as a graduate assistant tight ends coach at Purdue in 1986.

Brewster was born on October 13, 1960 in Phillipsburg, New Jersey. He was a two-time All-Big Ten selection as a tight end at the University of Illinois and graduated with a degree in political science in 1983. On the gridiron, he led the nation's tight ends in receiving in 1983 and captained the Fighting Illini in the 1984 Rose Bowl against UCLA. After his collegiate career concluded at Illinois, Brewster went to training camp with the New York Giants (1984) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1985).

Brewster and his wife, Cathleen, have three sons, Eric (June 2, 1986), Clint (Sept. 19, 1988) and Nolan (April 11, 1990).

STEVE CROSBY

Special Teams

26th NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

For the second year in a row, the Chargers special teams will be guided by veteran coach Steve Crosby. His resume includes 18 years of coaching experience in the National Football League.

In his first season with the Chargers in 2002, Crosby's kickoff units ranked among the best in the league. The Bolts kickoff coverage unit held the opposition to 20.0 yards per return, the third-best figure in the NFL while the team's kickoff return unit averaged 22.9 yards per return, ninth-best in the league.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Crosby, 52, spent four seasons (1998-2001) at Vanderbilt University as offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. In the four seasons he was in charge of the Commodores' offense, the passing game improved each year, from 150.0 yards per game in 1998 to 240.6 yards per game in 2001.

Before his stint at Vanderbilt, Crosby spent two seasons (1996-97) as a scout for the Philadelphia Eagles.

During his 25 years in the NFL, Crosby spent three seasons as a player, four years as a scout and 18 as a coach. His last NFL coaching stop was with the Cleveland Browns from 1991-95, as running backs coach (1991-93) and offensive coordinator (1994-95). Crosby spent one season in 1990 coaching special teams and tight ends for the New England Patriots.

Crosby spent four seasons with the Atlanta Falcons, serving three seasons (1987-89) as running backs coach and one (1986) as quarterbacks coach. In 1985, he was the running backs coach for the Cleveland Browns. Prior to his year in Cleveland, Crosby worked with Atlanta's quarterbacks and running backs from 1983-84.

Crosby began his career in professional football as a player, spending the 1974-76 seasons as a running back with the New York Giants.

After his playing days were over, Crosby worked for two seasons (1977-78) as a scout and four seasons (1979-82) as an assistant coach for the Miami Dolphins. His coaching responsibilities included special teams and linebackers, while also continuing his duties in the player personnel department. Crosby was part of the staff that guided Miami to the 1983 Super Bowl.

During his career as an NFL assistant coach, Crosby tutored numerous Pro Bowl players, including quarterbacks Steve Bartkowski, Bernie Kosar and Vinny Testeverde, and running backs William Andrews, Earnest Byner, Gerald Riggs, Kevin Mack and Eric Metcalf.

Crosby was an All-America running back at Fort Hays State in Hays, Kansas. He was twice named to the NAIA All-America team, and he was a three-time all-conference performer before being selected by the Giants in the 17th round of the 1974 NFL Draft.

Crosby was born on July 3, 1950 in Great Bend, Kansas. He attended Pawnee Rock High School. Crosby earned bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from Fort Hays State.

Steve and his wife, Lisa, have three children, including sons, Matthew (July 14, 1986) and Jeffrey (March 29, 1988), and daughter, Lauren (Jan. 5, 1993).

JERRY HOLMES

Defensive Backs

15th NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

A former player, who spent 10 seasons as a cornerback in the National Football League, Jerry Holmes is entering his second season as the San Diego Chargers defensive backs coach.

In his first season with the Bolts, Holmes oversaw the development of cornerback Quentin Jammer, the team's top pick in the 2002 NFL Draft, who is expected to move into the starting lineup in 2003.

Before joining Marty Schottenheimer's staff in San Diego, Holmes spent the 2001 season with Schottenheimer as the defensive backs coach for the Washington Redskins. He arrived in Washington after two seasons (1999-2000) as the defensive backs coach for the Cleveland Browns.

As a coach, Holmes embodies the same characteristics that he demonstrated as a player in both the NFL and USFL, physical play and aggressive football.

Prior to becoming an NFL assistant coach, Holmes spent four seasons (1995-98) as the defensive backs coach at his alma matter, West Virginia University. In 1996, the Mountaineers boasted the nation's top-ranked defense, including a No. 5 national ranking against the pass. Holmes also spent three seasons (1992-94) as the linebackers coach and defensive coordinator at Hampton University. Previously, Holmes completed coaching internships with the Browns, Detroit Lions, the University of New Haven and Boston University.

As a player, Holmes professional career spanned 12 seasons and included stops with the NFL's Green Bay Packers (1990-91), Detroit Lions (1988-89) and New York Jets (1980-83, 86-87), and the USFL's New Jersey Generals (1985) and Pittsburgh Maulers (1984). His NFL totals included 25 interceptions, two of which he returned for touchdowns.

Holmes began his collegiate career at Chowan Junior College, where he earned an associate degree in business administration, before transferring to West Virginia. He lettered for two years at West Virginia and earned his degree in business administration. Holmes has completed course work toward earning a master's degree.

Jerry Holmes was born Dec. 22, 1957 in Newport News, Virginia. He attended Bethel High School in Hampton, Virginia. Holmes and wife, Patricia Ann, have one daughter, Natasha Nicole (Aug. 31, 1996).

HUDSON HOUCK

Offensive Line

21st NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

Veteran coach Hudson Houck has earned his stripes as one of the finest offensive line coaches in the National Football League.

In his first season with the Chargers, Houck's offensive line helped LaDainian Tomlinson become the NFL's second leading rusher, and provided excellent protection for Drew Brees, who was sacked 24 times, fifth-fewest in the league. Due to injuries and lineup changes, the Chargers did not have a single member of the offensive line start all 16 games, and in the team's season finale, the Chargers started only two players who started the first game of the season.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Houck, 60, spent nine seasons (1993-2001) molding the Dallas Cowboys' offensive line into one of the top units in league history. During his tenure, the Cowboys allowed 237 sacks in 144 regular-season games (an average of 1.6 per game). Dallas was one of only three teams in the NFL to have allowed fewer than 40 sacks in each of Houck's nine years. In addition, the Cowboys were the only team to surrender fewer than 20 sacks more than once (three times) in that span. Prior to Houck's arrival in Dallas, the Cowboys had allowed fewer than 30 sacks in a season only once in franchise history. Dallas accomplished that feat six times during his tenure.

From 1993-2000, Dallas led the league in fewest sacks allowed with 203 — Miami was second with 225. The Cowboys led the NFC in fewest sacks allowed in five of Houck's nine seasons.

During Houck's 19-year career as an NFL coach, his lines have helped running backs produce six NFL rushing titles and 18 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Future Hall of Fame running back Emmitt Smith, the NFL's all-time leading rusher, accounted for at least 1,000 yards during each of Houck's nine seasons in Dallas.

During Houck's tenure in Dallas, six different offensive linemen were named to the Pro Bowl at least two times each: Larry Allen (seven trips), Nate Newton (five), Erik Williams (four), Ray Donaldson (two), Mark Stepnoski (two) and Mark Tuinei (two). In all, six linemen made 22 trips to the Pro Bowl in his nine years with the Cowboys, a total matched by no other NFL team.

Prior to joining the Cowboys, Houck spent the 1992 season coaching the offensive line for the Seattle Seahawks. His group opened the holes that allowed Chris Warren to rush for 1,017 yards, the fifth 1,000-yard rushing season in team history.

Houck spent nine years (1983-91) directing the offensive line for the Los Angeles Rams. During that stretch, no team sent more offensive linemen to the Pro Bowl than the Rams. In all, five Rams linemen made 21 trips to Hawaii, led by Jackie Slater (seven trips) and Doug Smith (six).

The work of Houck's offensive line produced 1,000-yard rushers in seven of his nine seasons in Los Angeles, including four NFL rushing titles in five years from 1983-87. Running the ball wasn't the Rams' only weapon, as Jim Everett passed for more yards from 1989-91 than any other quarterback in the NFL. Because of the pass protection provided by the offensive line, Everett did not miss a start from 1988-91.

Houck began a 16-year collaboration with John Robinson in 1976 at his alma mater, the University of Southern California. During his tenure at USC, Houck served as the offensive line coach, guiding a group that would open holes for Heisman Trophy winners Charles White and Marcus Allen. While at USC, seven of Houck's linemen earned All-America honors and went on to play in the NFL: Marvin Powell (Jets), Pat Howell (Oilers), Brad Budde (Chiefs), Keith Van Horne (Bears), Roy Foster (Dolphins/49ers), Bruce Matthews (Oilers/Titans) and Don Mosebar (Raiders).

Houck graduated from USC after playing three seasons (1962-64) at center for the Trojans. He was on USC's 1962 national championship team. Houck began his coaching career as an assistant at Crescenta Valley High School in 1966. He served two years in the United States Army from 1967-68 before returning to Crescenta Valley in 1969. From 1970-71, he served his first stint as the freshman coach at USC before moving to Stanford where he coached the offensive line from 1972-75.

Houck was born on January 7, 1943 in Los Angeles, California. He attended Eagle Rock High School in Los Angeles. During his coaching tenure with the Cowboys, Houck was a supporter of The Rise School of Dallas, a nonprofit organization providing educational services to children with Down's syndrome. He and his offensive linemen, in conjunction with The Rise School of Dallas, participated in the First Down for Down Syndrome fund-raising program. Hudson has a son, Troy (June 15, 1965). His wife, Elsie, has two children, Scott (April 12, 1969) and Holly (April 6, 1972). They reside in La Jolla.

JAMES LOFTON

Wide Receivers

18th NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

Hall of Fame wide receiver James Lofton is set to embark on his second season as the wide receivers coach for the San Diego Chargers. One of the most prolific pass catchers in NFL history, Lofton was selected to the Hall of Fame's 2003 class on January 25, 2003. He will be formally inducted into the Hall on August 3.

Under Lofton's leadership, Tim Dwight caught a career-high 50 passes in 2002. Lofton was instrumental in the development of rookies Reche Caldwell and Eric Parker, both of whom burst on to the scene with impressive totals last season. The addition of former Arizona Cardinals wide receiver David Boston should further bolster the Chargers receiving corps for another big year in 2003.

During an NFL career than spanned 16 seasons (1978-93), Lofton played in 233 games, caught 764 passes for 14,004 yards (18.3 avg.) and scored 75 touchdowns. His 764 career receptions rank 10th in league history, while his 14,004 receiving yards is third in NFL annals to only Jerry Rice (20,386) and Tim Brown (14,167).

Lofton, 47, originally entered the NFL in 1978 as a first-round draft pick (sixth overall) with the Green Bay Packers. He spent nine seasons (1978-86) in Green Bay before moving to Los Angeles to play for the Raiders during the 1987-88 seasons.

In 1989, Lofton signed with Buffalo, where he spent the next four seasons (1989-92). During his tenure with the Bills, Lofton was part of three AFC Championship teams and played in three Super Bowls following the 1990, '91 and '92 seasons.

After his stint in Buffalo, Lofton played in one game with the Los Angeles Rams and nine games with the Philadelphia Eagles before retiring after the 1993 season. It was with Philadelphia that Lofton became the first player in NFL history to eclipse 14,000 receiving yards.

Lofton's finest NFL seasons came in 1983 and 1984 with the Packers. In 1983, he caught 58 passes for 1,300 yards and eight touchdowns, and led the NFL with an average of 22.4 yards per catch. The following year, he caught 62 passes for 1,361 yards and seven scores for an average of 22.0 yards per catch, also tops in the NFL.

Lofton joined the Chargers after spending eight years in broadcasting. From 1994-96, he was an analyst for CNN's NFL Preview Show. In 1997, he spent a year as an analyst on NFL games for NBC. In 1998, he returned to CNN as a studio analyst for CNNSI's coverage of the NFL. He spent three years (1998-2001) as a game analyst on FOX Sports Net's broadcast of Big 12 football games while also doing NFL games for CBS Radio on Westwood One. From 1995-2001, Lofton worked as an analyst for the Carolina Panthers on the team's preseason telecasts.

James David Lofton was born on July 5, 1956 in Fort Ord, California. He attended George Washington High School in Los Angeles before a standout career at Stanford University. His career receiving totals at Stanford included 68 catches for 1,216 yards

(17.9 avg.). In 1977, he set the school single-season record with 12 touchdown catches. He was a three-year letter winner (1975-77) for the Cardinal in football. He also had an outstanding career in track and field at Stanford where he was a four-time All-America selection. In 1978, he won the NCAA Championship in the long jump. Lofton graduated from Stanford in 1978 with a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering.

Lofton has continued his track and field career by competing in Master's events over the past seven years (1997-2003). Most recently, he won the 2003 Pacific Association Championship in the 400 meters and posted the fastest time in the world in the 300 meters for the 45-49 year old division. In 2002, Lofton won the Western Regional Championship in the 400 meters after capturing the long jump championship in 2001. He also won the championship in the long jump at the World Master's Games in 1999. His first titles were in 1997 in the 200 and 400 meters, and the long jump at the Texas State Master's.

James and his wife, Beverly, have three children, including two sons, David (Jan. 28, 1984) and Daniel (July 2, 1987), and one daughter, Rachel (Sept. 12, 1990). David will be a redshirt freshman quarterback at Stanford in 2003.

GREG MANUSKY

Linebackers

15th NFL Season, 2nd with Chargers

Former NFL linebacker Greg Manusky is in his second season as the linebackers coach for the San Diego Chargers.

In Manusky's first season coaching the position, middle linebacker Donnie Edwards led the team with 129 tackles and five interceptions, and was named to his first career Pro Bowl. Manusky's experience was also key to the development of rookie outside linebacker Ben Leber, who ranked third on the team with five sacks.

Manusky entered the coaching ranks in 2001 when he accpeted a position as linebackers coach with the Washington Redskins. It was the year in which Marty Schottenheimer was the head coach.

Manusky ended a 12-year playing career in 1999, that included stops in Washington (1988-90), Minnesota (1991-93) and Kansas City (1994-99). In 1991, Manusky was selected to the All-Madden Team.

Manusky, 6-1, 240, was known for being a hard-nosed workhorse and a demon on special teams. Those characteristics enabled him to play in 113 consecutive games at the end of his career, a streak that spanned more than seven seasons.

In each of his six seasons in Kansas City, Manusky was either the team's leading tackler or was tied for the team lead in tackles on special teams.

After retiring from the NFL in 1999, Manusky spent the 2000 season as a volunteer at the Tampa Bay Buccaneers training camp where he worked with the linebackers and special teams units.

As a collegian, Manusky was a four-year letterman and an All-Colonial League selection at Colgate University. As a senior, he was named the league's defensive player of the year. Manusky graduated with degrees in education and geology.

Prior to entering the collegiate ranks, Manusky was a prep standout at Dallas High School in his hometown of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

Gregory Manusky was born on August 12, 1966. Greg and his and wife, Laurie, have two sons, Colton Paul (March 22, 1995) and Jake Gregory (Nov. 19, 1996), and two daughters, Logan May (May 11, 1999) and Chandler Lynn (Dec. 18, 2002). They reside in San Diego.

WAYNE NUNNELY

Defensive Line

9th NFL Season, 7th with Chargers

When Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer started assembling his coaching staff with the Chargers, he didn't look far for his first hire when he retained defensive line coach Wayne Nunnely.

Considered one of the top defensive line coaches in the NFL, Nunnely, 51, has spent the last six seasons (1997-2002) as the Chargers' defensive line coach. He will be in his ninth season as a coach in the National Football League in 2003.

The Chargers' defensive line has been one of the NFL's stingiest against the run under Nunnely, leading the league in yards per carry allowed in three of the past five seasons. In 2001, the Chargers led the NFL by allowing opponents to rush for just 3.3 yards per carry. Previously the Chargers ranked second in the league in 2000 by allowing opponents just 3.0 yards per carry. In 1998-99, San Diego led the league in that category.

In 1998, San Diego's defense was the best in the league at stopping the run. The Chargers led the NFL in rushing yards allowed per game (71.3) and opponent yards per carry (2.7), the lowest average allowed by any team since 1951. The Chargers did not allow a 100-yard rusher in 1998, despite facing several of the NFL's top running backs, including 2,000-yard rusher Terrell Davis (69 and 74 yards) and 1,000-yard rushers Marshall Faulk, Eddie George, Ricky Watters, Antowain Smith, Duce Staley, Gary Brown and Adrian Murrell. In fact, none of the players listed rushed for more than 75 yards in a single game against the Chargers in 1998.

In 2001, the Chargers' defensive line added a new dimension with the acquisition of defensive end Marcellus Wiley. In his first season in San Diego, Wiley led the team with 13 sacks and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl, while fellow linemen John Parrella and Raylee Johnson were named second and third alternates, respectively. Wiley and Johnson combined for 22.5 sacks in 2001, tied for most by a pass rushing duo in the AFC, matched by only Baltimore's Peter Boulware (15) and Michael McCrary (7.5).

Before joining the Chargers as defensive line coach in 1997, Nunnely spent two seasons (1995-96) in the same capacity with the New Orleans Saints. In his two years with New Orleans, the Saints' defense ranked in the top five in the NFL in sacks and sacks per play. He worked at the Saints training camp in 1994 as part of the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship program.

Nunnely spent nearly 20 years as an assistant coach, head coach and administrator on the college level. From 1993-94, he was the defensive line coach at UCLA where he helped the Bruins to a Pac-10 championship and the Rose Bowl in 1993. He also spent two seasons (1991-92) as the running backs coach at USC.

Nunnely's first job as a coach was at Valley High School in Las Vegas, Nevada, in 1975. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Nevada-Las Vegas, in 1976. His initial full-time job came at Cal Poly-Pomona, where he coached the running backs in 1977 and the defensive line in 1978. Nunnely moved to Cal State-Fullerton for one season (1979), where he coached the defensive line. He then went on to the University of the Pacific (1980-81), coaching running backs, before returning to UNLV (1982-85), where he served as running backs coach and helped the Rebels win their first PCAA and California Bowl championship in 1984.

In 1986, Nunnely was named head coach at UNLV, a post he manned for four seasons. At the time of his appointment, he was the first African-American head coach on the West Coast and only the fifth in NCAA Division 1A history. In 1988, he and Cleve Bryant of Ohio University were the first African-American head coaches in the history of NCAA Division 1A football to coach against each other, with Nunnely's UNLV squad coming out on top, 26-18. In 1990, Nunnely served in the administration at UNLV as the Director of Minority Student Affairs.

Nunnely played fullback and also lettered in track at the UNLV for two seasons (1972-73). He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. The school's faculty named him Most Outstanding Male Physical Educator.

Wayne Benjamin Nunnely was born March 29, 1952 in Los Angeles, California. He played football, basketball and track at Monrovia High School in Monrovia, California. He and wife, Velda, have two sons, Channing (July 10, 1973) and Aaron (Oct. 27, 1986), and daughter, Amber (July 30, 1983). Wayne is the co-founder of "The Snapper," a device used by coaches to simulate a center snapping the ball.

CHARGERS IN THE COMMUNITY

Chargers in the Community

The Chargers have been a proud partner with the San Diego community for more than 40 years. The team and its players annually contribute time and resources to make San Diego County one of the best places in the country to live and work. Long-standing community events like the Chargers Annual Blood Drive, which celebrates its 25th Anniversary in 2003, combined with newer projects like the Chargers Taste of the NFL benefiting the San Diego Food Bank, have helped raise thousands of dollars and badly needed resources for the citizens of San Diego.

Through its charitable arm, The Chargers Community Foundation, the team also provides grants, scholarships and monetary resources to non-profit organizations throughout San Diego County.

Chargers Community Foundation benefits San Diego

The Chargers Community Foundation was created by team owner Alex Spanos to enhance his belief of "sharing the wealth" and to provide an even greater level of financial assistance to the San Diego community. In 2002, the Community Foundation, through the Chargers Champions program and other initiatives, provided assistance to more than 500 organizations and individuals.

Chargers Champions awards $1.2 million dollars to local youth and schools

Chargers Champions, the foundation's major grant program, is in its fourth year of benefiting youth, education and schools. Created by Alex and Dean Spanos, the program provides scholarships and grants to students, schools, educators and coaches. Since its inception, Chargers Champions has honored 88 students, 27 schools and 34 educators and coaches.

With a $3 million commitment county-wide, Chargers Champions is dedicated to identifying and honoring those students, educators and coaches "making the difference" in their communities and in people's lives. The program also has provided grants for physical fitness, athletic and nutrition programs for San Diego County schools.

Each year 22 high school juniors are selected as Chargers Champions for their outstanding leadership, service, citizenship and commitment to their schools and communities. Each student receives a tuition scholarship of $7,000 and a laptop computer.

Alex and Dean Spanos with the Chargers Champions "Class of 2003" at the Chargers All-Star Gala.

The program honors six educators and six coaches who have made a difference through innovation, creativity and risk-taking in an effort to better develop their students and student-athletes. These educators and coaches each receive $2,000 grants for use in their classroom or athletic department.

Chargers Champions also selects two high schools to receive grants of $50,000 for badly needed physical fitness, athletic and nutrition programs. Two middle schools receive $25,000 grants and one elementary school receives a $20,000 grant to implement similar programs.

"With deep budget cuts happening in schools all over the state, we hope these grants will assist our schools in ensuring that students have access to the kind of physical fitness programs necessary to instill the importance of a healthy lifestyle," said team President Dean Spanos.

"Chargers Champions is a great opportunity to recognize some real champions and reward them for their hard work both in the classroom and in their communities. There are a lot of terrific coaches, teachers and bright, young students out there. It's important for us to recognize them and provide resources to help them continue making a difference."

representatives, civic leaders and educators including Rudy Castruita, County Superintendent of Schools; Fred John, Senior Vice President of Sempra Energy; and Ed Trimble, President of KFMB.

Outstanding nonprofits benefit from the Community Quarterback Award

Created to recognize the value of what a single committed volunteer can accomplish when working toward the betterment of his or her community, the Chargers Community Quarterback Award annually presents grants to nonprofit organizations based on the works of a single volunteer. Since the program's creation three years ago, the Chargers Foundation has awarded more than $75,000 to outstanding nonprofit organizations throughout the county.

Last year, the Chargers Community Foundation selected 10 finalists from among hundreds of nominations. Each received a $1,000 donation to their charity, including Carrie Scott (San Diego Council on Literacy), Dr. Elizabeth Jones (Foundation for the Children of the Californias), Kristy Gregg (STAR/PAL), Carlye Nystrom (Friends of the READ/San Diego Literacy Program), Cindy Rutter (Burn Institute), Steve Saake (Multiple Sclerosis Society), Dr. Donald Short (Elementary Science Institute), Gayle Slate (Kids Included Together), William Stillwell (Parkinson's Disease Association) and Jarred Wafer (Kids Korps USA).

Carrie Scott was named the 2002 Community Quarterback winner and received an additional $10,000 for the San Diego Council on Literacy. Runners-up Dr. Elizabeth Jones and Kristy Gregg received an additional $2,500 for their respective organizations.

Chargers and Children's Hospital go hand in hand

Since Alex Spanos arrived in San Diego, the Chargers have nurtured an ongoing relationship with Children's Hospital and Health Center. From the creation of the Brooke Humphries Fund, to the introduction of the Toss for Tots program, Children's Hospital remains a top recipient of the team's support.

The Brooke Humphries Fund was created by the Spanos family to honor Stan Humphries, his daughter Brooke and his family for their contributions to San Diego. A sizeable contribution was given to establish the "Brooke Humphries Field of Champions," a specially designed area that more than 25,000 orthopedic outpatients visit annually. The room is located on the first floor of the Children's Way Patient Care Pavilion near the hospital's reception area.

The fund continues to support various programs and specialized technology so that Children's Hospital and Health Center can continue providing San Diego's children the medical care they deserve.

In 1999, the Chargers and Children's Hospital strengthened their partnership by creating the interactive "Toss for Tots" program. Fans sign up to make donations to Children's Hospital for each touchdown the Chargers score during the regular season. Top donors receive a special "behind the scenes" visit to Chargers Park. There is also a "Toss for Tots" Passing Challenge Booth, located near Gate K at all home games. For more information or to sign up for "Toss for Tots," call the Children's Hospital Foundation at (858) 576-5988 or visit www.chargers.com.

Linebacker Donnie Edwards reads to elementary school kids in honor of Dr. Seuss' birthday for "Read Across America" day.

Chargers community programs are a team event

The Chargers are proud to sponsor numerous programs benefiting the San Diego community. In addition to the programs sponsored by the team, Chargers players also visit schools and libraries to read to children, mentor youth in after-school programs, travel to hospitals and convalescent homes to spend time with the sick and elderly, and sponsor youth groups at home games through the Community Corner. Many of these programs are long-standing traditions and are eagerly anticipated throughout the community each year.

Chargers Blood Drive to celebrate 25th anniversary

San Diego's longest running community event is the annual Chargers Blood Drive. Created in partnership with the San Diego Blood Bank, the Chargers Blood Drive helps keep an adequate blood supply during the holiday season. In 2003, the Blood Drive will proudly celebrate 25 years. Throughout the years, more than 38,000 pints of blood have been collected to benefit the San Diego's citizens.

Under the direction of Susie Spanos, the wife of team President Dean Spanos, the Chargers Blood Drive also supports the Cord Blood Donor Program, which encourages pregnant women to donate their umbilical cord upon delivery so the blood can be used to help save lives.

The Chargers Blood Drive began as a call to help kicker Rolf Benirschke, one of the most popular players in team history. Rolf required more than 50 pints of blood during surgery for ulcerative colitis. The enthusiastic response to that blood drive was the genesis of this nationally recognized program. Benirschke returns each year to join current players in greeting and assisting donors. The evening features the annual fashion show starring the players' wives, girlfriends and families.

Chargers ongoing support for youth sports

The Chargers are proud of their history in supporting youth and high school sports in San Diego County. Through the Chargers Foundation, the team was responsible for the creation of freshman football and girls' volleyball for 14 San Diego City high schools. Both programs are flourishing in their third years.

"I salute the Chargers for their commitment to youth and education by providing students a chance for greater participation in athletics," said Alan Bersin, Superintendent of San Diego City Schools. "The Chargers are demonstrating, both with their backing of ninth-grade sports and their Chargers Champions scholarships, the benefits that come to our community when public and private entities work together for our common good."

Along with the support of freshman sports, the Chargers are proud to sponsor the annual CIF Championship football games at Qualcomm stadium each December.

Few people realize that the annual Alex Spanos All-Star Classic is the longest standing high-school football all-star game in California. Created more than 15 years ago, the Alex Spanos All-Star Classic gives San Diego's premier seniors a final high-school football experience in their own "Super Bowl." The High School Sports Association of San Diego annually gathers the county's best seniors for a showdown between North and South schools. In addition to making the game possible through his contribution, Spanos donates a scholarship in the names of the game's most valuable offensive and defensive players to each school's respective athletic departments.

Youth Pop Warner football also has benefited from the Chargers' generosity. In addition to support given through various fundraisers each year, thousands of Pop Warner players, cheerleaders and their parents have enjoyed the thrill of participating in an exhibition game on the Qualcomm Stadium playing at a Chargers game.

The Chargers' Gatorade Camps give kids a chance to compete in NFL style drills, just like the players.

Chargers host Taste of the NFL Celebrity Dinner

The Chargers second annual Taste of the NFL Celebrity Dinner at the On Broadway Event Center was a tremendous success. This fun-filled evening of music, incredible auction items and amazing food was sponsored by the Chargers with all contributions going to the San Diego Food Bank's hunger relief programs. Chargers Alumni Willie Buchanon served as the event's chair. Participating restaurants included Donovan's Steak & Chop House, Anthony's Star of the Sea, Candelas, de Medici, Laurel, Las Fajitas, Bertrand at Mr. A's, Morton's, Asti, Zen Café, Indigo Grill, Molly's, Pamplemousse Grille and Max. The Chargers are proud to partner with the San Diego Food Bank for the Taste of the NFL as well as the Holiday Food Drive Kickoff held at Qualcomm Stadium each year.

Chargers Community Corner

For the past six seasons, Dean Spanos and more than 30 players have teamed up with area nonprofit agencies to send local youth to Chargers games. Tickets to each game are part of the "Chargers Community Corner," consisting of more than 200 season tickets on the field level at Qualcomm Stadium that are given to various youth organizations throughout San Diego. Each child who attends a game in the Community Corner receives a T-shirt and a coupon for a free hot dog and soda. Because of the generosity demonstrated by Spanos and the players, thousands of San Diego's children have been able to experience the thrill of Chargers football.

Quentin Jammer and Zeke Moreno helped raise money for STAR/PAL at the Celebrity Waiter luncheon by singing "I'm a little tea pot."

Giving Back

Throughout the year San Diego Chargers players find numerous ways to give back to the community.

In early spring, the players don aprons and a good sense of humor to raise funds for STAR/PAL, San Diego's Police Athletic League. In 2002, 11 players and Dean Spanos joined the fun by selling silverware, singing songs or doing whatever it took to raise funds for the program. The Chargers are proud to sponsor and team up with STAR/PAL during the season in hosting 13 free two-hour football skills camps throughout the county.

Raylee Johnson helps a child pick out a pair of shoes at the Chargers annual shoe drive.

Chargers players participate in the Senior Center's Annual Mother's Day Food Distribution each May. Players deliver food and attention to senior moms who would otherwise have no visitors on this special day.

Thursday evenings during the regular season, Chargers players, coaches and staff deliver hot soup and sandwiches to San Diego's homeless population in the downtown area. They also donate blankets and clothing to the city's less fortunate.

Each October the Chargers team up with Payless Shoe Source to distribute shoes to needy youngsters. More than 1,000 pairs of shoes are handed out each year to children in grades K-6. The most deserving youth are selected throughout San Diego County by their schools and are teamed with individual players on the day of the event to pick out a new pair of shoes.

In November the Chargers purchase gift baskets of food to help 150 families prepare Thanksgiving dinner. The Spanos family and the players purchase the food and distribute it to the deserving families throughout the county.

In December, Dean Spanos and long snapper David Binn heads up the "Teddy Bear Drive to Children's Hospital." The event entails leading a caravan of more than 75 law enforcement vehicles filled with teddy bears and toys, which are delivered to patients at Children's Hospital. The Chargers Bolt Patrol van leads the caravan to the hospital. Binn and Spanos each donate $2,000 to the Coronado Police Officer's Association to help with the purchase of the gifts. The teddy bear drive began more than 10 years ago. Approximately 5,000 bears and toys were donated last year.

He started the final 13 games and anchored an offensive line that allowed the fifth-fewest sacks in the league while paving the way for LaDainian Tomlinson, the league's second-leading rusher. Ball capped off a stellar rookie season by earning the team's Lineman of the Year Award.*

Away from the field, Ball is a nature enthusiast. He has a keen interest in animals and enjoys visiting the San Diego Zoo. His favorite section is the reptile house, especially the snake exhibit. Ball, who used to catch frogs and turtles as a kid, recently purchased his first snake, a one-year old blood python from India named Warhol.

2 DARREN BENNETT

Punter
6-5, 235
9th NFL Season
9th with Chargers

DOB: 1/9/65
Free Agent - '94
Perth, Australia

San Diego's import from "the land down under," Darren Bennett is firmly established as one of the NFL's premier punters. A two-time Pro Bowler, Bennett holds every team punting record, including punts in a career, season and game, punt yards in a career, season and game, and the highest punting average for a career, season and game.

In addition to two Pro Bowl selections, Bennett has garnered a host of honors, including Chargers' Special Teams Player of the Year in 2000, being selected to the Chargers' 40th Anniversary All-Time Team and named to the NFL's All-Decade Team for the 1990s.

For Bennett and wife, Rosemary, football and its accolades took a back seat last year when the couple learned that their oldest son, Will, had been diagnosed with muscular dystrophy. There is no known cure for the disease, but research is moving along at a steady pace and hopefully a cure is not far away. Bennett made a pledge to his family to use his platform as a professional athlete to bring attention and awareness about MD to the NFL community. Bennett has a Web site at www.NFLAussie.com where you can log on to learn more about the disease or pledge support to help in Will's fight against muscular dystrophy.

Back on the gridiron, Bennett is a former Australian Rules Football star who spent 12 seasons as one of the continent's top footballers, competing for the East Fremantle Sharks, the West Coast Eagles and the Melbourne Demons. Surprisingly, the salaries for even the top players in the AFL didn't quite measure up to NFL standards. Bennett held a full-time job as an employment officer and nursery owner during his playing days in Australia.

Bennett got his first exposure to punting an NFL football during an Aussie Rules exhibition game in Toronto. His Melbourne squad was playing a game at Toronto's SkyDome when Hank Ilesic, a former Chargers punter who was playing for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League, joined Bennett for a few punts at halftime. Faring reasonably well, Bennett purchased a football of his own.

As Bennett tells the story, he kept the football in his car and as he drove back home in Australia, he and a mate would occasionally stop and practice their punting. A short time later, Bennett used two round-trip plane tickets that he won in a long-ball kicking contest for he and Rosemary, to spend their honeymoon on the West Coast of the United States. It was during their honeymoon that the Bennetts contacted the Chargers and arranged for a tryout.

It was an inauspicious debut for Bennett in his first attempted punt before the Chargers' brass. The very first snap from long snapper Sam Anno hit Bennett square in the nose. Unfazed, Bennett regrouped and by the end of the audition, the Chargers had seen enough to make him an offer. It didn't take long for the Chargers to see a return on their investment. Bennett set a team record with a 44.7-yard average in his rookie season and was rewarded with his first trip to the Pro Bowl.

Now, eight seasons later, Bennett has posted a resume that includes 689 punts for 30,340 yards for an average of 44.0 yards per attempt. His average ranks fourth all-time among punters with at least 250 career attempts.

An avid outdoorsman who enjoys the high seas, Bennett is the owner of a 27-foot Australian Shark Cat, a boat he purchased in Australia and had shipped to the states. He makes regular fishing excursions off the coast of San Diego with his two sons, Thomas and Will,

and he hosts an annual fishing trip for his teammates.

In a different sort of excursion on the high seas, Bennett, along with teammates David Binn and Donnie Edwards, experienced a thrill of a lifetime in May when they were invited to fly out to meet the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln as it returned to San Diego from the war in Iraq. While aboard the ship, the players met President George Bush, who delivered a speech from the deck of the carrier declaring an end to hostilities in Iraq.

10th NFL Season
10th with Chargers

California
DOB: 2/6/72
Free Agent - '94
San Mateo, Calif.

Heading into his 10th NFL season, David Binn has earned a reputation as one of the top long snappers in the league. His pinpoint accuracy has helped punter Darren Bennett earn two trips to the Pro Bowl.

In May, Binn joined Bennett and linebacker Donnie Edwards for a two-day trip aboard the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln as the ship and its crew returned to San Diego from the war in Iraq. The players flew to the carrier in a plane called a COD, which landed on the deck of the carrier. Once aboard the ship, they were joined by President George Bush, who had also flown to the carrier to deliver a speech to the nation declaring an end to the hostilities in Iraq. It was quite an experience for all three players, particularly Binn and Edwards, who engaged the President in a brief conversation and snapped a few photos with the nation's Commander in Chief.

The trip to the Lincoln was not Binn's only experience aboard a military aircraft. In 2000, he received a special invitation to fly in an F-18 with the Navy's Blue Angels.

Throughout his NFL career, Binn has been one of the Chargers' most active players in the community. In 1998, he started the David Binn Foundation to support environmental education and scholarship programs. The foundation supports several worthy causes, including the annual "Teddy Bear Drive to Children's Hospital" in which Binn joins forces with the Coronado Police Department to deliver stuffed animals to hospital patients.

9 DREW BREES

Quarterback Purdue
6-0, 221 DOB: 1/15/79
3rd NFL Season Draft 2 - '01
3rd with Chargers Austin, Tex.

Drew Brees had a memorable first season as the Chargers starting quarterback, which included overtime victories against Denver, San Francisco and Oakland, and a fourth-quarter comeback win against Kansas City. Brees threw for 3,284 yards and 17 touchdowns. He threw for more than 300 yards in a game three times, including a career-high 336 yards in the Bolts Nov. 17 win over the San Francisco 49ers. Brees' 17 touchdown passes were the most by a Chargers quarterback since Stan Humphries threw 18 in 1996.

In March, Brees and longtime girlfriend, Brittany Dudchenko, tied the knot in a ceremony in San Diego and enjoyed their honeymoon in Tahiti.

Brees competes in a wide range of sports, including basketball, golf and baseball. In April, Brees was invited to take batting practice with the San Diego Padres before a game against the San Francisco Giants. Donning a full Padres uniform, the Chargers signal-caller took turns in the batting cage and shagged fly balls in the outfield at Qualcomm Stadium. Brees chatted with several Padres and engaged in a brief conversation with Giants slugger Barry Bonds. It was the second year that Brees was invited to take batting practice with the Pads.

April was a busy month for Brees, who hosted the Brees on the Tees golf tournament at the Morgan Run Resort. The tournament, which featured a host of professional athletes from the NFL and other major sports leagues, benefited Fresh Start Surgical Gifts, a nonprofit organization that provides reconstructive surgeries for children who suffer physical deformities. Proceeds raised from the tournament help transport children to San Diego for surgeries performed by doctors who donate their time.

Aside from his work with the Chargers in the community, Brees is in the process of creating his own charitable foundation, The Drew Brees Foundation.

One of the more exciting endeavors Brees participated in this offseason was to learn what it takes to become a United States Marine. In March, Brees and several of his teammates, including linebacker Donnie Edwards, spent a full day at San Diego's Marine Corp Recruiting Depot and Oceanside's Camp Pendleton. The day was filled with mental and physical challenges, a visit to a weapons simulator and a live-fire demonstration on the firing range. The visit, which occurred during the war in Iraq, gave the players a new appreciation for the men and women who serve in the armed forces.

One of Brees' hobbies is to play with his remote controlled toy collection, including several cars, a motorboat and an airplane.

12 SETH BURFORD

Quarterback
6-3, 241
2nd NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo
DOB: 3/11/79
Draft 7 - '02
Oakdale, Calif.

A seventh-round draft pick in 2002 who used his first season to learn the nuances of the quarterback position from Drew Brees and Doug Flutie, Burford cut his teeth as a member of the Barcelona Dragons during the 2003 NFL Europe season.

It was a whirlwind offseason for Burford, who was married to his former high-school sweetheart on March 1, just one week into training camp for NFL Europe. His wife, the former Jill Santucci, traveled overseas and spent the season with Burford in Barcelona. In lieu of a honeymoon, the couple took advantage of their free time during the NFL Europe season to enjoy the beaches of Barcelona and travel to several other European cities.

Back home, Burford's hobbies include basketball and golf. He often joins Brees and Flutie for pickup games at basketball gyms around San Diego. Burford owns a Dalmatian named Boz, adopted as a puppy from a good friend, Troy Robinson, who died from leukemia when the two were in high school.

His wife Jill is quite an athlete in her own right. She was one of the top rodeo riders in California up through high school, competing in barrel racing and roping competitions. In college, Jill competed in track at Cal Poly, running the 200 and 400 meters.

Another passion of Burford's is trucks. He drives a Dodge Ram to work, but his prized possession is a 1969 Chevy pickup which he and his dad built when Seth was in high school.

24 JESSE CHATMAN

Running Back
5-8, 215
2nd NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Eastern Washington
DOB: 9/22/79
Free Agent - '02
Seattle, Wash.

Jesse Chatman personifies a feel-good story of a player beating the odds to earn a spot on an NFL roster. An undrafted free agent from Eastern Washington, Chatman made San Diego's 53-man roster despite a tumultuous training camp. Twice Chatman returned to Spokane, Washington to be with his son, Sahvere, who was struggling with epileptic attacks. Coincidentally, as his son's medical condition improved, Chatman began to assert himself on the field. He ended the 2002 preseason as the NFL's rushing leader. Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer presented Chatman with a game ball following a preseason contest against Seattle in which he had several long runs late in the game to preserve a 24-14 victory.

Chatman is an admitted day-dreamer who spends a lot of time focusing on football. When he is able to take his mind off the game, Chatman enjoys spending time outdoors, whether it's a trip to the beach, a weekend of camping or watching a movie outdoors at a drive-in. He especially likes to watch movies from the front seat of his recently-restored 1983 Chevy Cutlass Supreme. Like many of his teammates, Chatman is a classic car enthusiast who plans to add a Ford Bronco to his fleet.

Chatman follows an interesting ritual before every game. He wears an extra pair of socks inside-out underneath his game socks, and puts his practice jersey underneath his game jersey as a reminder that he should play like he practices.

Few kickers are as cool and confident as Steve Christie when the game's on the line. Last year, Christie kicked two game-winning field goals in overtime, the eighth and ninth of his career, moving him into a tie with Jim Breech for the NFL record. Christie has kicked 15 game-winners in the final minute of regulation or overtime and been named NFL Special Teams Player of the Week seven times during his career, second-most in league history.

When Christie makes his first field goal of the 2003 season, it will mark the 300th of his career. He will become only the 14th player in NFL history to reach that plateau. Coincidentally, his first successful PAT of the season will be the 400th of his career. Christie heads into 2003 ranked 17th in league history in career points scored. He trails former Charger John Carney, who ranks 16th with 1,296 points. Gary Anderson is the NFL's all-time scoring leader with 2,223 career points.

An art history graduate from William & Mary, Christie enjoys oil painting in his free time. An admittedly quiet and reserved individual, Christie attempts to express himself through his art. It's a passion he's had since his youth. His parents frequently took Steve and his sister to art galleries where he developed an interest in drawing. As he got older, he added color to his work and discovered a newfound passion for painting. Christie estimates he has produced nearly 100 paintings, some of which are available for purchase on his personal Web site, www.christieart.ca*.*

During the offseason, Steve and wife, Kelly, make their home in a log cabin in Ellicottville, New York, where Steve has an art studio and produces the majority of his work.

A portion of the proceeds from the sales of his paintings help support Camp Good Days and Special Times, a summer camp in Rochester, New York, for kids suffering from cancer and other catastrophic diseases. Christie also donates $300 to the camp for every field goal he makes. So far, Christie has raised more than $100,000 for the camp.

Always athletic as a youth, Christie's favorite sports were soccer and hockey. At 16, he played on the Canadian Junior World Cup soccer team. Following high school, he was offered the opportunity to play first division soccer in Scotland. His interest in soccer has not waned, and today Christie is a shareholder with the Glasgow Celtic football club in Glasgow, Scotland, regarded as one of the 10 most popular soccer teams in the world.

Christie owns two dogs, a five-year-old Irish wolfhound named Delaney and a four-year-old chocolate Labrador named Shamrock.

87 TIM DWIGHT

Wide Receiver
5-9, 180
6th NFL Season
3rd with Chargers

Iowa
DOB: 7/13/75
Trade (Atlanta) - '01
Iowa City, Iowa

Tim Dwight proved to be a valuable contributor for the Chargers in many facets in 2002. This versatile athlete, who joined the Chargers in a pre-draft trade in 2001, was a force as a wide receiver, ball-carrier, blocker and a demon on special teams as both a kickoff and punt returner. However, the play that Dwight will be most remembered for was the downfield block he threw to spring LaDainian Tomlinson on a 58-yard touchdown scamper which provided the winning margin in the Chargers' 21-14 victory over the defending Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots on Sept. 14.

Dwight lives life close to the edge both on and off the football field. He is an extreme sports enthusiast who lists surfing, wakeboarding, bungee jumping, riding Jet Skis and motorcycles, white-water rafting, yoga and learning to play his electric guitar among his hobbies. In November 2002, Dwight returned to Iowa City and opened a yoga studio.

While in San Diego, Dwight lives in Pacific Beach, where he can be found riding his bike to the beach with one of his three surfboards in tow as he heads to Tourmaline Street, one of San Diego's premier longboarding spots. He owns a condominium in Lake Tahoe, Nevada, where he spends time during the offseason enjoying the fresh mountain air while perfecting his prowess as a snowboarder. He also plans to take one of his newer toys to Lake Tahoe, a 21-foot MasterCraft wakeboarding boat.

Dwight has taken advantage of his platform in the NFL to help others. In June, he hosted a three-day football camp in Iowa City that was attended by more than 300 youngsters. Half of the proceeds from the camp helped support the Holden Comprehensive Cancer Center at the Children's Hospital of Iowa. Dwight's sister Christine is a cancer survivor. The remainder of the funds from the camp went toward the Tim Dwight Scholarship Fund. It was the second year Dwight hosted the football camp.

59 DONNIE EDWARDS

Linebacker
6-2, 227
8th NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

UCLA
DOB: 4/6/73
UFA (Kansas City) - '02
Chula Vista, Calif.

If an unsung hero is one who allows others to acknowledge their achievements rather than championing their own causes Donnie Edwards truly is an unsung hero. Honored as such this past offseason by the NFL Players Association, Edwards is putting smiles on faces in San Diego and all across the country.

The San Diego native returned home a year ago, signing a multiyear deal with the team he dreamed about playing for while growing up. Edwards delivered in a big way for the Chargers, leading the team in tackles and interceptions on the way to being selected to his first career Pro Bowl.

Off the field, he is just as driven. Upon returning to San Diego, Edwards wasted little time in embracing the community that he loves. One of the first projects he committed to was the construction of a new weight room for his alma mater, Chula Vista High School. The $40,000 project included new weights, flooring, mirrors and commemorative keepsakes from Edwards' career.

In June 2000, Edwards was honored when his #89 high school football jersey was retired by Chula Vista high. This past year, he was inducted into the school's hall of fame. He was also induced into the Sweetwater Union School District's Hall of Fame, which recognizes excellence in all professional fields, including athletics.

Edwards has also made a commitment to continuing an event he started during his days in Kansas City called "Dad's Day with Donnie." On this special day, Donnie and other professional athletes take children from the Boys and Girls Clubs and the Polinsky Center to SeaWorld where they take on the role as a father for a day.

The founder of the "Donnie Edwards Best Defense Foundation," Edwards is actively involved with the Boy Scouts, the Sweetwater School District's Compact for Success Program, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, San Diego's Sharp Hospital, Read Across America and the Think First Program, which encourages children to wear bicycle helmets. A Boy Scout as a youth, Edwards is on the San Diego Board of Directors and carries the rank of Star Scout. He was the honorary chairman for Scout Fair 2003. Edwards is also a regular participant as an instructor at football camps across the country.

Edwards is working toward a master's degree in education from UCLA. As part of the master's program requirements, Edwards occasionally works in San Diego schools in an administrative capacity. He is also a regular speaker at local schools, talking to kids of all ages about setting goals for the future and staying on course in the classroom. As a token of his appreciation to the university, Edwards recently made a financial contribution to help in the reconstruction of the school's football operations center, the Acosta Training Center. The improved facility will feature new locker rooms and meeting rooms along with a renovated weight room and sports medicine facility.

A staunch supporter of the military and history buff, Edwards often visits local military bases on his days off, speaking with servicemen and women, offering words of encouragement and sharing his appreciation for the military. He learned the appreciation from his grandparents, who served in World War II and the Korean War. Edwards has an extensive collection of military artifacts and souvenirs, including uniforms and helmets.

In 2001, Edwards was invited to fly in an F-18 with the Navy's Blue Angels. In April 2003, he and several teammates experienced being a Marine recruit for a day and in May, he and teammates David Binn and Darren Bennett flew to the aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln to spend two days aboard the carrier with troops returning home from the war in Iraq. During their visit to the carrier, President Bush also spent a night on board, and it was from the Lincoln that he delivered his speech to the nation declaring an end to hostilities in Iraq. Edwards and the other players had the opportunity to meet the President and were present on the deck of the carrier for his speech.

In the free time he has when he's not helping others, Edwards enjoys reggae music, paintball, basketball and spending time at the beach with his three Labrador retrievers, Bear, Scout and Bess. Over the offseason, he competed on a recreational basketball team at a local YMCA with current and former NFL players, including Andre Reed and Quinn Early.

There is an interesting side-note to Edwards' career. He has been successful for seven seasons in the game despite being highly allergic to grass, the NFL's natural playing surface.

92 JASON FISK

Defensive Tackle
6-3, 295
9th NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Stanford
DOB: 9/4/72
UFA (Tennessee) - '02
Davis, Calif.

With a wife and three children, Jason Fisk is already hard at work preparing for the day when his body can no longer stand up to the rigors of professional football. He and former Tennessee Titans' teammates Mike Jones and Eddie Robinson obtained a franchise agreement for Athletes Foot shoe stores in Tennessee. Their 10-year deal with the chain calls for the trio to open 20 stores within the state. To date, they have opened five stores, predominately in urban areas, where they are attempting to bring retail opportunities and jobs to those neighborhoods. Last year, Fisk, James and Robinson were featured in an issue of Black Entrepreneur magazine.

An avid outdoorsman away from the gridiron, Fisk is in his second year with the Chargers. One of his outdoor interests is fishing and he has parlayed that interest into a role with the T.J. Martell Foundation, an organization dedicated to raising funds for research for the cures of leukemia, cancer and AIDS. He hosted a bass fishing tournament that raised money for the foundation. It is a cause dear to his heart because his grandparents have all been affected by cancer.

On June 19, Fisk and his wife, Miriam, celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary. Miriam is Fisk's former high school sweetheart.

7 DOUG FLUTIE

Quarterback
5-10, 180
10th NFL Season
3rd with Chargers

Boston College
DOB: 10/23/62
UFA (Buffalo) - '01
Natick, Mass.

Veteran signal-caller Doug Flutie had to adjust to a new role in 2002. It was one he would rather not have, but Flutie accepted his position as the team's number-two quarterback behind starter Drew Brees. Ever the competitor, whether in a game, on the practice field, on the golf course or on a basketball court, the 40-year-old Flutie took it in stride and was a valuable member of the team's quarterback trio. Flutie saw action in one game and nearly rallied the Chargers to victory in a critical December game at Buffalo.

In a professional career spanning 17 seasons, including eight in the Canadian Football League, Flutie has passed for 56,777 yards. He is one of just six players in professional football history to pass for 50,000 career yards, joining an exclusive fraternity that includes the NFL's Warren Moon (70,325 yards), Dan Marino (61,361) and John Elway (51,475), and the CFL's Damon Allen (50,789) and Ron Lancaster (50,535). During his CFL career, Flutie captured three Grey Cup Championships and was the league's Most Outstanding Player an unprecedented six times.

Flutie has been a winner everywhere he's played. He has a record of 35-25 (.583) as a starting quarterback in the NFL, including a mark of 21-7 (.750) in home games.

Flutie is a well-conditioned athlete who enjoys participating in a wide variety of sports. Baseball has always been one of his favorites and he has taken batting practice with the San Diego Padres and the Boston Red Sox. He has also skated with the NHL's Boston Bruins. A basketball fanatic, Flutie can often be found running full court pickup games in any number of local gyms.

Doug is also an accomplished drummer. He and his brother Darren, a CFL wide receiver who played with the Chargers in 1988, formed a rock band called "The Flutie Brothers." The band has played in Las Vegas and at several venues in San Diego. Doug has also been invited to play drums on stage with several rock 'n' roll bands, including the Dave Matthews Band, Aerosmith, Bon Jovi and Lynyrd Skynyrd.

One of Flutie's main devotions away from the gridiron is the Doug Flutie Jr. Foundation for Autism. The foundation, named after his son who is affected by the disorder, focuses on raising awareness and support for autism. Flutie has hosted basketball and golf tournaments to raise funds, along with money brought in from the sale of "Flutie Flakes" breakfast cereal and candy bars.

2nd NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Nebraska
DOB: 11/26/81
Draft 2A - '02
Hauula, Hawaii

A year ago, Toniu Fonoti (TONE-u Foe-no-TEE) was the NFL's youngest player. You'd never know it by watching him perform on the football field. The Chargers' second pick in the 2002 draft, Fonoti started 14 games at right guard. He paved the way for LaDainian Tomlinson to become the league's second-leading rusher. This year, he is making the transition to left guard.

A giant on the field, Fonoti is otherwise a gentleman. He is a devout family man who enjoys spending time with his wife, U'ilani, and the couple's daughter, Fetogi. Toniu wears a tattoo on his left arm bearing Fetogi's name. Fonoti is the first member of his family to play in the NFL, but that could change thanks to his younger brother, Taualai, who will be a sophomore linebacker at Stanford this season.

The Fonotis make their home in the remote San Diego community of Alpine where they can escape the rigors of city life.

36 VERNON FOX

Cornerback
5-9.5, 200
2nd NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Fresno State
DOB: 10/9/79
Free Agent - '02
Las Vegas, Nev.

You'll have to excuse Vernon Fox if he plays with a chip on his shoulder. A little over a year ago, Fox was expecting to be drafted anywhere from the fourth to sixth round after an outstanding collegiate career at Fresno State. However, when the phone didn't ring on draft weekend, Fox was dejected. That was at least, until he got a call from the Chargers' late general manager, John Butler. At the urging of Fresno State Head Coach Pat Hill, Butler and the Chargers signed Fox to a free agent contract.

Fox didn't disappoint his new employer. Pressed into the starting lineup two weeks into his rookie season when injuries thinned the Bolts' secondary, Fox met the challenge and had an interception in his first career start against Houston.

Beyond football, Fox draws his inspiration to succeed from his family and faith. A devout Christian, Fox shares his inspiration with children of all ages in his hometown of Las Vegas, speaking at schools and to youth groups. His message is simple; success begins with hard work and a good education. He definitely learned the hard work part from his father, Vernon, Jr., who spent more than 20 years working in construction building some of the biggest hotels on the world famous Las Vegas strip.

Fox followed through on his own educational goals, earning a prestigious post-graduate scholarship from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame. He plans to use the scholarship to earn a master's degree in rehab counseling.

51 BEN LEBER

Linebacker
6-3, 244
2nd NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Kansas State
DOB: 12/7/78
Draft 3 - '02
Vermillion, S.D.

A third-round draft pick in 2002, Ben Leber hardly came into a veteran-laden team hardly expecting to find himself running with the first team. That all changed quickly when Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer, impressed with Leber's preseason workouts, moved the rookie into the first group on the opening day of training camp. Leber took the move in stride and started 14 games in 2002. It doesn't appear that he'll be replaced any time soon.

Leber believes his drive to succeed comes from his upbringing, growing up in a household where he had two older brothers. His oldest brother Jason, who is now a chiropractor in Baltimore working with the Ravens, was an All-America fullback at the University of South Dakota. In the summer, Jason would bring Ben to the Vermillion, South Dakota campus to lift weights with his college teammates. This experience helped pave the way for Ben's successful collegiate career at Kansas State.

His parents are a big inspiration in his life as well. His mother, Han, is from South Korea, and met Ben's father, Al, while he was stationed with the Army in Seoul. Ben recently married the former Abby Demanette, Leber's girlfriend from college. The couple owns two Great Danes, Moose and Belle, and enjoy taking them to Dog Beach in Del Mar.

Leber, who says sushi is his favorite food, eats the same meal before every game, home or away. His pregame diet includes a peanut butter and jelly sandwich, rice, a bowl of soup and a bag of popcorn.

DOB: 5/31/78
Waivers (Washington) - '02

Defensive end Otis Leverette joined the Bolts at the end of the 2002 season after being waived by the Washington Redskins. At 6-6, Leverette has the size to be a disruptive pass rusher. He spent the final six weeks of the season learning the defense and with a firm grasp on the team's playbook, Leverette should be ready to challenge for a roster spot.

*Leverette spends his offseasons in Birmingham, Alabama, where he and his wife, Nakeisha, have entered the real estate market. They have purchased two houses and plan to invest in more. Leverette remodels these homes and has done flooring, drywall, sheet rock, plumbing, painting and more. A native of Kingston, Jamaica, McIntosh and his family moved to Florida when he was four years old, but he returns to the island nation every summer to spend time with his grandparents and other family members.

*Growing up between Jamaica and Florida, it is no surprise that McIntosh has a fascination with fish. The massive offensive tackle keeps himself busy year-round by taking care of his 300-gallon saltwater aquarium, which currently is home to an angelfish, a horn shark, a moray eel and several other exotic fish. He also owns a 120-gallon tank that houses more than 20 freshwater fish. He owns a three-year-old American bulldog named Ice. CHARGERS

47 RYAN McNEIL

Free Safety
6-2, 210
11th NFL Season
3rd with Chargers

Miami
DOB: 10/4/70
UFA (Dallas) - '01
Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Ryan McNeil plays this season with a heavy heart. In May, he lost his father, Renard, after a brief battle with cancer. It was the second tragic death in the Chargers family as a result of this terrible disease. Former general manager John Butler, who brought McNeil to San Diego as a free agent in 2001, lost his battle with lymphoma in April.

A most durable player since his arrival in the NFL as a second round draft pick of the Detroit Lions in 1993, McNeil had a streak of 130 consecutive games played end when he was forced to sit out the Chargers Dec. 1 game against Denver due to a fractured arm. But he returned to the starting lineup for the final four games despite the fracture. It's this kind of toughness that makes him a leader on the field.

Off the field, McNeil has equally impressive credentials. He is the founder and president of McNeil Management, a consulting firm that helps both current and former professional athletes prepare for life after the game with offices in Atlanta, Boston, Miami and San Diego. Last year, McNeil launched the Professional Business and Financial Network, a business association exclusively for professional athletes focused on business skills development and peer networking opportunities.

Last February, McNeil was honored by NV magazine (New Vision in Business), a publication targeted to young black professionals. The "NV Awards 2K3" ceremony took place at the W Hotel in New York City and honored McNeil and other urban professionals for demonstrating strong leadership in business.

McNeil's penchant for the business world earned him an invitation to a financial literacy workshop in May 2002, on Wall Street. McNeil was one of about 20 active and retired NFL players invited. They learned about the role of the New York Stock Exchange in the global economy and received valuable insight about investment opportunities. The workshop was organized by Rev. Jesse Jackson's Rainbow Coalition and the NFL Players Association. In addition, McNeil participated in the inaugural NFL for Managers Program, held at Stanford University this past June. The program was designed and developed to recognize and prepare current and future managers in professional sports.

McNeil is as active on the community giving front as he is in the business world. With the help of his mother, Rose Haywood, McNeil oversees two charitable foundations based in his hometown of Ft. Pierce, Florida. The private Ryan D. McNeil Foundation annually awards five $1,000 college scholarships to deserving students in the South Florida area. His public foundation, Positive Alternatives, Inc., also known as "The 47 Club," assists with a host of projects in and around his hometown, including an annual football camp. He provided a basketball floor for Ft. Pierce Westwood High School, his alma mater. In addition, McNeil sponsors field trips for area youth to visit colleges and historical sites around the country.

*Lorenzo Neal made a lot of people happy on Feb. 28, when he signed a three-year deal with the Chargers, but perhaps none more so than Chargers Pro Bowl running back LaDainian Tomlinson. Josh Norman made quite an impression last year, earning a spot on the final 53-man roster as a rookie free agent. Norman didn't waste any time showing this is where he belonged, catching a touchdown pass in his first NFL game in the 2002 season opener at Cincinnati.

*Norman's first love outside of football is music. He plans on making a career of it after football. In college Norman learned to play the piano, but not the way most learn. Gifted with an ear for music, Norman taught himself to play the piano by watching other people play. He would focus on people's hands as they played and picked up patterns with the sounds. West Virginia
DOB: 2/27/76
UFA (Dallas) - '03
Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Chargers' offensive line got a huge boost when former Dallas Cowboy Solomon Page inked a one-year deal on June 5. One of the key factors in Page's decision to play in San Diego was offensive line coach Hudson Houck, Page's coach during his first three NFL seasons in Dallas. A left-hander who had played left tackle in college, Houck convinced the young man that he had the skills to play on the right side of the offensive line by imploring him to "just go out there and play." Page did for the Cowboys and did it well and now both are glad to be together in San Diego.

Outside of football, Page is a family man who enjoys spending time with his infant daughter, Trinity, and mother, Donna. In fact, when Page was drafted by the Cowboys, he asked his mom to join him in Dallas to help with the maturation process that comes with adjusting to life in the NFL. She has always been his biggest supporter.

Draft 4 - '02
Dublin, Calif.

Justin Peelle is a player who likes to be as unpredictable off the field as he is on it. He gained valuable experience as a rookie playing on special teams while seeing limited action at tight end. His experience will be vital as he anticipates more playing time this season.

Time away from football is never wasted in Peelle's world. This offseason, he and longtime girlfriend, Sara Thompson, got engaged. The couple recently purchased a five-month-old Rottweiler named Payton. Peelle named the dog after his boyhood idol, Hall of Fame running back Walter Payton. Justin and Sara enjoy traveling together and rank Hawaii among their favorite vacation destinations, especially the island of Kauai.

Peelle lists golf and skydiving among his hobbies. A self-described below-average golfer, Peelle prefers the adrenaline rush that comes with jumping out of an airplane at 12,000 feet. His most recent jump was in July above Lake Elsinore. It was a birthday present from Sara. Peelle completed his first jump in Eugene, Oregon before beginning his senior year at the University of Oregon.

2002: Finished rookie season with three catches for 15 yards...ranked fifth on squad with seven special teams tackles...caught first pass of career for two yards against San Francisco Nov. 17...had two stops on special teams against Jets Nov. 3 and at Denver Oct. 6.

52 CARLOS POLK

Linebacker
6-2, 250
3rd NFL Season
3rd with Chargers

Nebraska
DOB: 2/22/77
Draft 4 - '01
Rockford, Ill.

The Chargers' Special Teams Player of the Year in 2002, Polk will get another opportunity to crack the starting lineup as he competes to fill the vacated middle linebacker spot. It's a position he's familiar with, having been a two-year starter at inside linebacker during his collegiate career at Nebraska.

Polk's father, John Moore, is the biggest influence in his life. Moore, a construction worker by trade, commuted to and from Chicago, leaving the house at 4 a.m. and often times returning home after 9 p.m. Yet he made time for Carlos and his brothers and sisters when he was home. It is from his father that Polk inherited his tireless work ethic and family values.

One common bond that brought Carlos and his father together was their love of working on classic cars. Polk's first car was a Pontiac Firebird that he and his dad spent weekends working on before Carlos was old enough to drive. Over the years, the two have also restored a 1947 Ford Coupe and a 1949 Plymouth.

On the field, Polk is a player whose engine is always running at full throttle whether in practice or in a game. During his days at Nebraska, his intensity sometimes boiled over and Polk was often forced to run the stairs at Memorial Stadium by the team's coaches for his numerous scrums with the Cornhuskers offensive linemen during practice.

66 CORY RAYMER

Center Wisconsin
6-3, 300 DOB: 3/3/73
9th NFL Season UFA (Washington) - '02
2nd with Chargers Fond du Lac, Wisc.

The Chargers are optimistic that Cory Raymer will return from a serious Achilles tendon injury suffered in last season's third game at Arizona. It's not the first injury he's had to overcome. Perhaps none was more intense than the 1996 car wreck when Raymer overturned attempting to avoid a car in his path. He escaped with a bruised kidney, fractured vertebra and a sprained left shoulder. He knows the accident could have been worse, so he doesn't fret about overcoming his latest injury.

Raymer learned all he needed to know about toughness in 2001 in the wake of the nation's tragedies on Sept. 11. As a member of the Washington Redskins, Raymer and his family lived in Sterling, Virginia, an estimated 20 miles from where the Pentagon is located. Following the attacks of 9/11, Raymer and many of the Redskins players visited the Pentagon to help build up the morale among rescue workers. It turned out to be an uplifting experience for the players as well to see all the volunteers working so diligently.

Raymer, who grew up in Wisconsin, is an avid outdoorsman and his favorite activities include fishing and hunting with his yellow Labrador, Tucker. One of Raymer's best friends is the captain of a deep-sea fishing boat in North Carolina and Corey is a regular on the boat during the offseason. His biggest catch was a 185-pound Big Eye tuna. Raymer also loves motorcycles and has owned a Harley Davidson "Fat Boy" since 1997. He and current Chargers teammate Stephen Alexander, who owns a couple of motorcycles, were neighbors when they both played in Washington and spent many afternoons riding their bikes along the highways of Virginia.

Raymer is also a hockey buff. A defenseman, he played the game through high school and received several college scholarship offers before opting for football at Wisconsin. He says that when he got so big that the ice cracked under his skates, his career would be better served on a football field. Raymer follows hockey and often watches the San Diego Gulls and the Anaheim Mighty Ducks.

21 LaDAINIAN TOMLINSON

Running Back
5-10, 221
3rd NFL Season
3rd with Chargers

Texas Christian
DOB: 6/23/79
Draft 1 - '01
Waco, Tex.

If you were to ask LaDainian Tomlinson what he's most proud of, you'd expect him to talk about his record-setting accomplishments on the field or making the Pro Bowl in his second NFL season. But what he's most proud of are the things football has enabled him to do off the field.

The first thing football allowed him to do was purchase brand-new homes for his mother, Loreane, and sister, Londria, in Dallas. It was a dream come true for Loreane, who raised three children on her own. Tomlinson took things one step further though. In addition to the homes, he also purchased a pair of vacant buildings in Dallas, one for his mother's real estate company, Eagle Lending, and the other for his sister's day-care center named Miracles and Blessings.

Football has also given Tomlinson a platform to help others outside of his family. One such example is Tory Degrate, a 16-year old junior who attends Tomlinson's alma mater, University High School in Waco. For the past two summers, Tomlinson has invited Degrate to spend the summer months with he and wife, LaTorsha, in the couple's Scripps Ranch home. Tomlinson is serving as a mentor for Degrate, who has been raised in a single-parent home. One common bond the two share is a love for playing basketball. Tomlinson is extremely proud that his work with Degrate last summer not only was key to his earning a spot on the school's varsity basketball team in just his sophomore season, but also paid off when he was named first team all-conference and newcomer of the year for the entire district. This summer, the goals got a little bit bigger as Tomlinson and Degrate began focusing on opportunities for the young man to continue his education at a four-year college.

During his own formative years, Tomlinson built a strong bond with Walter Brown, his running backs coach at University High. Whenever he is back home in Waco, Tomlinson makes a point to visit with the students and for the past two years, he has hosted football camps which have been attended by more than 600 local youth.

A big kid at heart, Tomlinson enjoys playing basketball, golf and video games in his free time. You will often find him involved in pickup basketball games at any number of San Diego gyms. Like many of his teammates, he has an interest in classic cars and last year fulfilled a lifelong dream when he purchased a restored 1964 cherry-red Chevy Impala, complete with a hydraulic lift kit. He nicknamed the car, "The G Ride."

On the field, Tomlinson is regarded by many as the NFL's premier rusher. He was selected to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for the first time in his career after finishing the 2002 season as the league's second-leading rusher. He piled up a team-record 1,683 yards, easily shattering Natrone Means' record of 1,350 yards set in 1994. Miami's Ricky Williams claimed the league's rushing crown with 1,853 yards. Included in Tomlinson's stellar season were seven 100-yard games, tying Don Woods' 1974 team record.

Tomlinson scored a team-high 15 touchdowns in 2002, including 14 on the ground. His 14 rushing touchdowns were the second-most in team history. He finished the year ranked sixth in the league in scoring among non-kickers.

Tomlinson's feats weren't limited to the ground. He finished the season ranked among the league leaders with a team-record 2,172 total yards from scrimmage, including 489 yards receiving on a team-high 79 catches. He ranked third behind Kansas City's Priest Holmes (2,287 yards) and Miami's Williams (2,216 yards). His 79 receptions tied Ronnie Harmon's 1992 team record for the most receptions in a season by a Chargers running back. Tomlinson became the first player in team history and the 39th player in NFL history to record more than 2,000 total yards from scrimmage in a season.

A workhorse, Tomlinson set yet another team record with 372 rushing attempts for the season, while tying another when he carried 39 times in the Chargers overtime win at Oakland on Oct. 20.

Tomlinson has 11 100-yard efforts in the first two seasons of his NFL career. The Chargers are 6-5 in games that he surpassed the 100-yard barrier. Natrone Means holds the team's career mark with 15 career 100-yard games.

Included among Tomlinson's efforts in 2002 was a pair of 200-yard performances. He and Williams were the only players to record multiple 200-yard games last season. Previously, only 11 players in league history had achieved the feat. Tomlinson had a team-record 220 yards against Denver Dec. 1 and on Sept. 29 against New England, he tied the previous team mark with 217 yards.

Among the many milestones he achieved last season, Tomlinson became the first player in Chargers history and the 20th player in NFL history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in his first two professional seasons. This season, he aims to become just the 14th player in NFL history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in his first three professional seasons. The NFL record for consecutive 1,000 yard seasons at the beginning of a career is held by Barry Sanders, who rushed for 1,000 yards in his first 10 NFL seasons from 1989-98.

Just two seasons into his brief career, Tomlinson has already made his mark on the team's career lists for rushing yards, touchdowns and carries. Entering 2003, his career total of 2,919 yards ranks fifth on the team's career rushing list, as do his 24 career rushing touchdowns. As for his rushing attempts, he begins the season ranked sixth on the team's all-time list with 711 career carries.

54 JUDE WADDY

Linebacker
6-2, 230
3rd NFL Season
1st with Chargers

William & Mary
DOB: 9/12/75
Free Agent - '03
Suitland, Md.

Linebacker Jude Waddy is anxious to get back on the NFL gridiron. He last played a full season in 1999, but his will to compete on football's premier stage has not been diminished.

After his playing days come to an end, Waddy has carved quite a niche for himself as an inventor. He is awaiting a patent on a specially designed mouthpiece for athletes who play a variety of contact sports. Waddy would like to work for Sharper Image or Brookstone as a product designer.

In the meantime, he spends numerous hours in front of his computer doing research on products he is eager to patent.

Waddy learned all he needed to know about hard work and discipline from his parents. His mother, Jeanette, is a recently retired Lt. Col. in the Air Force as a registered nurse. His father, Jude, Sr., is a detective on the police force in Washington D.C. and is currently on a special assignment training security guards at United States embassies around the world.

For fun, Waddy and girlfriend recently took a sky sailing flight in a glider in Warner Springs, Calif. They both enjoyed the experience so much that they plan to go again. Waddy is not afraid of pushing himself to extremes, a trait necessary to play in the NFL. As a youth, Waddy rode motorcycles competitively in the Mid-Atlantic Motocross Association. From the ages of 12-16 he competed in the 125cc class, riding a Honda CR 125. In 1988, he won the series' Novice Championship at the Aquasco Speedway in Maryland.

The Chargers are hopeful that offseason abdominal surgery will allow Marcellus Wiley to again perform at a level that led to his first career Pro Bowl appearance two seasons ago. Wiley's on-field antics, particularly his "Buck the Bolt" dance, have made him a crowd favorite in San Diego's Qualcomm Stadium.

Wiley is one of the Chargers most active participants in the San Diego community. Upon arriving in San Diego, he created the Marcellus Wiley Youth Program to help needy young people learn the importance of education through reading and literacy. He's adopted four local schools whose students benefit from the Youth Program. Wiley started a line of clothing called "WildStyle 75," with proceeds from sales benefiting the program. Last season, he was named the Chargers' team winner of the NFL's Walter Payton Man of the Year Award.

Wiley has a tremendous passion for music and has a personal recording studio in his Cardiff, California home. One of his weekly projects during the season is to record a CD, which is played at Qualcomm Stadium during warm-ups prior to each Chargers' home game. Wiley, whose nickname is "Dat Dude" is frequently seen displaying his non-football talents as a deejay at various clubs in both San Diego and Los Angeles. He also recently started his own production company, Dat Dude Entertainment. In June, he was invited to judge the Miss Universe Pageant in Panama.

Wiley's musical interest stems from his favorite musical group, OutKast. He once told a national magazine that when he retires from the NFL, one of his dreams is to buy a Winnebago, get a leather jacket with sketches of the band's members airbrushed on the back and follow the musicians as they toured around the country.

A big kid at heart, Wiley has quite a collection of games at home. In addition to his ping-pong table, pool table and basketball court, he has an extensive collection of classic arcade-style video games. Some of the old-time favorites you'll find in his game room include Ms. Pac Man, Pole Position and Donkey Kong.

Wiley has two internet Web sites. The first is www.DatDude.com*, where fans can get the latest information on Wiley's career along with personal anecdotes. The other,* www.MWYP.com has information about the Marcellus Wiley Youth Program.

76 JAMAL WILLIAMS

Defensive Tackle
6-3, 305
6th NFL Season
6th with Chargers

Oklahoma State
DOB: 4/28/76
Draft 2 (Supp.) - '98
Washington, D.C.

The record shows the Chargers are a better team when Williams is in the lineup. Over the past two seasons, the Chargers are 11-4 when he plays and 2-15 when he doesn't. Hampered by a knee injury in 2001 and an ankle injury last season, the result of a questionable downfield block against Denver, the Chargers are anxious to have a healthy Williams for a full 16-game slate.

Williams is widely regarded as one of the most physically imposing defensive tackles in the NFL. It's natural, considering he comes from a family in which he was the second oldest of seven boys all raised by his mother, Harriet, a single parent. She works as a correctional officer at a juvenile facility in Louisville, Kentucky.

One of his pastimes away from football is collecting comic books. To date, his collection includes more than 2,500 books.

20 JERRY WILSON

Safety
5-10, 190
8th NFL Season
2nd with Chargers

Southern
DOB: 7/17/73
Free Agent - '02
Lake Charles, La.

Football is and will always be an escape for Chargers cornerback Jerry Wilson. For three hours on fall Sundays it allows him to get out on the field and forget about his pain. It's the pain of knowing his older brother, Kareem, will never see him put on an NFL uniform and play on the world's biggest stage. Kareem is serving a life sentence in a Texas prison. Football gave Jerry a path to steer clear of trouble as a youth. His younger brother, Kyle, recently completed a six-year prison term and for the first time this season will have the chance to see Jerry play football in person. It will be a special day.

Jerry has a daughter, Tanner, and two sons, Jerry III and Jared. He spends as much time as possible with them to make sure they don't stray down the wrong path.

Aside from spending time with his children, Wilson enjoys playing golf. He often joins some of his former Miami Dolphins' teammates for weekend golf outings. He also likes reading and going to the movies. He has read several motivational books written by Reverend T.D. Jakes. Wilson will frequently spend an entire day by himself at the movie theater and take in as many as three movies. His favorite actors are comedians Martin Lawrence and Jim Carey.

DOB: 4/8/80
Draft 1 - '03

Nicknamed "Candy Man" in reference to the late entertainer, Sammy Davis, Jr., was the Chargers' top pick (30th overall) in the 2003 NFL Draft. This big-play cornerback finished his career at the College Station campus with 188 tackles and 11 interceptions. He left school ranked sixth all-time in career interceptions for the Aggies.

Davis has some great memories from his college career, but top on the list is the Aggies 30-26 win over Oklahoma in 2002 when the Sooners entered the contest ranked number one in the nation. Another fond memory was the first home game after the 9-11 tragedy when the fans at Kyle Field were decked out in red, white and blue among the stadium's three levels. One of the lowest moments of his career was in 1999 when members of the football team helped move some of the logs that collapsed in the bonfire tragedy before the game against A&M's biggest rival, Texas.

2002 GAME SUMMARIES

San Diego Chargers 34, Cincinnati Bengals 6
Sunday, September 8, 2002 - Paul Brown Stadium (Cincinnati, OH)

The Chargers opened the 2002 season with one of the most dominating performances in recent team history, knocking off the Bengals, 34-6, before a crowd of 53,705 in Cincinnati's Paul Brown Stadium. The Chargers outperformed the Bengals in almost every phase of the game. San Diego gained 401 yards of total offense to Cincinnati's 203. The Bolts racked up an astounding 241 of those yards on the ground while limiting the Bengals to just 36. San Diego controlled the ball for 37:48 to the Bengals 22:12 and secured 27 first downs to Cincinnati's 13. It was the Chargers' first 200-yard rushing game since the team rushed for 202 yards against Indianapolis on Oct. 26, 1997. Drew Brees made the most of his first NFL start, completing nearly 79 percent of his passes, the most by an NFL quarterback making his first NFL start since Rob Johnson completed just over 83 percent of his attempts for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 1997. Running back LaDainian Tomlinson, who was limited for most of the preseason due to a lingering ankle injury, picked up right where he left off in 2001, rushing for his fifth career 100-yard game with 114 yards and a touchdown on 21 carries. San Diego scored early and often against Cincinnati to take a 20-0 halftime advantage. The Chargers took a 3-0 lead on the game's opening possession with a 28-yard Steve Christie field goal. After the teams exchanged punts, Alex Molden gave the offense a boost when his interception at the Bengals' 14-yard line resulted in a one-yard touchdown pass from Brees to rookie tight end Josh Norman. Another Christie field goal, this one from 27 yards, pushed the lead to 13-0, before the Bolts put together a drive late in the first half that all but took the fight out of the Bengals. With 8:14 to go in the first half, the Chargers started a drive at their own five yard line and drove the length of the field in 15 plays, capped off by a one-yard Tomlinson touchdown run. The drive, which featured 13 rushing plays for 88 of the 95 yards, was the Bolts' longest touchdown drive since a 99-yard drive against Arizona on Nov. 25, 2001 and consumed 7:55 on the play clock. In the second half, the Bengals drove 77 yards in nine plays and got on the scoreboard with a 21-yard field goal by Neil Rackers. The Chargers responded on their ensuing possession, driving 64 yards in five plays and scoring a touchdown on a nine-yard pass from Brees to Curtis Conway, increasing the lead to 27-3. Following a Bengals punt, San Diego put together yet another dominating drive that covered 12 plays and 78 yards and ended with a one-yard touchdown run by Terrell Fletcher. The drive, which extended the Bolts lead to 34-3, featured 11 running plays that accounted for 53 of the 78 yards. Cincinnati added a late field goal, but San Diego returned to the locker room victorious, 34-6. Molden paced the Chargers' defensive effort, recording a team-high six tackles and two passes defensed to go along with the interception. Defensive end Adrian Dingle had a career-high two sacks while rookie linebacker Ben Leber and defensive tackle Leonardo Carson each added one sack apiece. Kicker Wade Richey was exceptional on kickoffs, forcing three touchbacks and helping contribute to the Bengals having an average starting position of their own 22-yard line.

Sunday, September 15, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers improved to 2-0 on the season and 29-14 all-time in home openers with a 24-3 win over the Houston Texans before a crowd of 56,098 at Qualcomm Stadium. The Chargers' defense was the story of the game, collecting nine sacks against Houston quarterback David Carr, the third-most in team history. The Chargers snatched two interceptions against the rookie signal caller, while limiting him to six completions of 25 pass attempts for 87 yards. In total, the Chargers forced three turnovers while outgaining the Texans in total yards, 267 to 118. For the second week in a row, the Chargers jumped out to an early lead. On the game's first series, Drew Brees led a nine-play, 73-yard drive that culminated with a 35-yard touchdown pass to Curtis Conway, giving San Diego a 7-0 lead. After the teams exchanged punts, Junior Seau thrilled the Qualcomm Stadium crowd when he intercepted a Carr pass at the Texans' 31-yard line and returned it 25 yards to the six. Three plays later, Conway took a handoff on a reverse and scored a three-yard touchdown for a 14-0 lead after one quarter. It was Conway's second career rushing touchdown. Both teams kicked field goals in the second quarter and San Diego led 17-3 at the half. Midway through the fourth quarter rookie linebacker Ben Leber made a key defensive play that put the game out of reach. Conway had a huge afternoon for the Bolts, catching five passes for 113 yards, despite battling cramps through much of the second half. It was Conway's 19th career 100-yard receiving game and his first of the season. LaDainian Tomlinson was the Chargers' leading rusher with 84 yards on 27 carries. Brees finished the game 15 of 28 for 163 yards with one touchdown and the first interception of his career. # San Diego Chargers 23, Arizona Cardinals 15
Sunday, September 22, 2002 - Sun Devil Stadium (Tempe, AZ)

The Chargers improved to 3-0 with a hard-fought 23-15 win over the Arizona Cardinals on an afternoon in which temperatures at Tempe's Sun Devil Stadium climbed well above 100 degrees. The Chargers capitalized on turnovers all afternoon, converting two interceptions and a fumble into 21 points, while adding a safety when Carlos Polk blocked a punt out of the back of the end zone. San Diego fell behind early when Jake Plummer and MarTay Jenkins combined on a 65-yard touchdown pass giving the Cardinals a 7-0 first quarter lead. It was the first touchdown allowed by the Chargers in nine quarters and marked the first time this season that San Diego had trailed in a game. For the third week in a row, the Bolts intercepted a pass early in the game to spark the offense. This time, Marcellus Wiley intercepted his second career pass and returned it 40 yards to set up a four-yard touchdown run by LaDainian Tomlinson, which tied the game at 7-7. On the Cardinals' next series, Ben Leber stripped running back Thomas Jones of the ball and it was recovered by Ryan McNeil. Ten plays and 62 yards later, Tomlinson scored again, this time from the two-yard line, and San Diego claimed a 14-7 lead at the half. In the fourth quarter, with the score still 14-7, Polk's blocked punt and the resulting safety pushed the lead to 16-7. After the teams traded possessions, Donnie Edwards essentially put the game away with a 20-yard interception return for a touchdown to increase the lead to 23-7. It was Edwards' 11th career interception and his third career touchdown return. Arizona made a late push to get back into the game, scoring a touchdown and two-point conversion on a 31-yard pass from Plummer to Marcel Shipp, but San Diego came up with two big defensive stands late in the game, including one at their own nine-yard line, and the Bolts held on for the 23-15 victory. Drew Brees completed 17 of 31 for 181 yards and one interception. Tomlinson was the team's leading rusher with 91 yards and the two touchdowns on 26 carries. Curtis Conway was the leading receiver with 92 yards on seven catches. Junior Seau paced the defensive effort with a team-high nine tackles, while the Chargers got sacks from Raylee Johnson, Adrian Dingle and Wiley.

San Diego Chargers 21, New England Patriots 14
Sunday, September 28, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers improved to 4-0 for only the fifth time in team history with a 21-14 win over the defending World Champion New England Patriots at Qualcomm Stadium. The game was played before a near sellout crowd of 66,463, the sixth-largest home crowd in team history. LaDainian Tomlinson tied a team record with 217 rushing yards, including career-long touchdown runs of 37 and 58 yards. New England staked a 7-0 lead on the game's opening series, marching 11 plays and 67 yards before Tom Brady threw a five-yard touchdown pass to tight end Christian Fauria. After exchanging possessions, San Diego evened the score when Drew Brees capped off a five-play, 87-yard drive with a career-long 52-yard touchdown pass to Curtis Conway. Not to be outdone, New England drove 65 yards in 10 plays on the ensuing drive and took a 14-7 lead when Brady found linebacker Mike Vrabel, who entered the game as a tight end, alone in the end zone for a one-yard scoring strike. Once again after exchanging possessions, the Chargers capitalized on a missed 41-yard field goal by Super Bowl hero Adam Vinatieri and drove 69 yards in nine plays to tie the game at 14-14 on Tomlinson's 37-yard run. Tomlinson emerged from the locker room fired up, rushing for nine yards on the first play of the quarter and then the 58-yard touchdown on the second. It was the longest run of his career and San Diego claimed a 21-14 lead. The Chargers' defense buckled down and shut out New England for the entire second half, including interceptions by Ryan McNeil and Donnie Edwards to thwart both of the Patriots' third quarter drives. In the fourth quarter, the defense continued its domination, making a critical stop on fourth-and-one at San Diego's 39-yard line before recovering a fumble on New England's last ditch effort to win the game in the waning minutes. Brees finished the afternoon with 10 completions of 18 attempts for 104 yards and the touchdown. It was the fewest passing yards by a Chargers quarterback in a victory since Jim Harbaugh and Erik Kramer combined for 92 yards in a 21-14 win over Kansas City Oct. 3, 1999.

Denver Broncos 26, San Diego Chargers 9
Sunday, October 6, 2002 - Invesco Field at Mile High (Denver, CO)

The Chargers suffered their first defeat of the season, falling to the Denver Broncos, 26-9, in front of 72,123 at Invesco Field. The Broncos got solid contributions on both sides of the ball with cornerback Deltha O'Neal intercepting two passes and returning one for a touchdown, running back Clinton Portis rushing for 102 yards and quarterback Brian Griese passing for 316 yards and two scores. San Diego played without perennial Pro Bowl linebacker Junior Seau, who sat out the game with an injured ankle. Denver jumped out to an early 7-0 lead when Griese and Ed McCaffrey hooked up on a 69-yard touchdown pass on the Broncos' second play from scrimmage. It was the longest pass play surrendered by the Chargers this year. Early in the second quarter, the Chargers were driving deep in Broncos' territory looking to tie the game when a Drew Brees pass intended for tight end Stephen Alexander was intercepted by O'Neal. The Broncos took possession of the ball and drove 84 yards in 13 plays, capped off by an eight-yard shovel pass for a touchdown from Griese to Portis, and Denver led 14-0. On San Diego's next possession, the Bolts were forced to punt from deep in their own territory and safety Sam Brandon blocked Darren Bennett's punt, which was batted out of the end zone for a safety, giving the Broncos a 16-0 lead. Denver added a 36-yard field goal from Jason Elam as the half expired and the Broncos took a 19-0 lead into the locker room. The Chargers got on the scoreboard in the third quarter with a 24-yard field goal by Steve Christie to cut the lead to 19-3. The scored remained as such until late in the fourth quarter when O'Neal hauled in his second interception of the game and returned it 28 yards for a touchdown that gave Denver a 26-3 lead. San Diego added a late touchdown on an eight-yard pass from Brees to Curtis Conway, but the two-point conversion attempt failed and Denver closed out the 26-9 victory. LaDainian Tomlinson paced the Chargers' rushing attack with 48 yards on 14 carries and led the squad with seven catches for an additional 49 yards. Conway finished the afternoon with six catches for 68 yards and the score, while Brees completed 26 of 42 for 235 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. Zeke Moreno, who started for the injured Seau, led the squad with 11 tackles.

San Diego Chargers 35, Kansas City Chiefs 34
Sunday, October 13, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers reclaimed the top spot in the AFC West with a thrilling 35-34 come-from-behind victory over the Kansas City Chiefs before a crowd of 58,995 at Qualcomm Stadium. San Diego was able to overcome five turnovers and a blocked punt, and quarterback Drew Brees had his first career 300-yard passing game to help the Bolts come away with the win. Tim Dwight scored his first two touchdowns of the season and Curtis Conway caught eight passes for a team-high 129 yards while adding a touchdown on a reverse. LaDainian Tomlinson scored his sixth touchdown of the season as he accounted for 156 total yards, including 78 on the ground and 78 through the air on a team-best nine receptions. San Diego claimed an early 7-0 lead on its first possession of the game when Dwight capped a five-play, 66-yard drive with a 19-yard touchdown run on a reverse. It was his third rushing touchdown and the longest run of his career. Kansas City answered with a 28-yard field goal from Morten Andersen to trim the lead to 7-3. At the conclusion of San Diego's next possession, Darren Bennett's punt was blocked by linebacker Larry Atkins and the Chiefs recovered the ball at the Chargers' one-yard line. A Priest Holmes touchdown two plays later gave Kansas City a 10-7 lead. It was the first rushing touchdown allowed by the Chargers this season and ended a team-record streak of 24 quarters without allowing a rushing touchdown. The Chiefs scored a touchdown late in the first half on a 44-yard pass from Trent Green to Marc Boerigter, his first of two touchdown catches on the day, and took a 17-7 lead into the locker room at halftime. Midway through the third quarter, Chargers safety Keith Lyle, playing for an injured Rogers Beckett, intercepted a Green pass and returned it to the Chiefs' nine-yard line, which set up the one-yard Tomlinson touchdown run that cut the lead to 17-14. San Diego's defense held on the Chiefs' ensuing possession and forced a punt, but a Tamarick Vanover fumble while attempting to field the punt gave the ball back to the Chiefs at the 28-yard line. Three plays later Boerigter caught his second touchdown of the game and the Chiefs pushed the lead back to 24-14 heading into the fourth quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, Conway's 11-yard touchdown run capped off an eight-play, 59-yard drive and again the Chiefs lead was cut to three points, 24-21. The Chiefs refused to give in, and on their next possession they traveled 60 yards in eight plays and Tony Gonzalez opened the lead back to 10 points at 31-21 with a three-yard touchdown catch with 8:06 remaining in the fourth quarter. Cool and collected, Brees brought the Chargers' offense back down the field with a nine-play, 65-yard drive and an 11-yard touchdown pass to Dwight and cut the Chiefs lead to three points at 31-28. A 43-yard Andersen field goal on the Chiefs ensuing possession gave Kansas City a 34-28 lead with 2:30 remaining in the fourth quarter and set the stage for one of the greatest finishes in Chargers history. With no time outs on the final drive, Brees orchestrated a seven-play, 71-yard march down the field in which he completed six of seven passes, including three for 59 yards to Conway, and he finished it with a two-yard touchdown pass to rookie Reche Caldwell with 14 seconds left to give the Chargers a 35-34 victory.

San Diego Chargers 27, Oakland Raiders 21 (OT)
Sunday, October 20, 2002 - Network Associates Coliseum (Oakland, CA)

The Chargers took sole possession of first place in the AFC West heading into their bye week with a 27-21 overtime win against the Oakland Raiders before a crowd of 60,974 fans at Network Associates Coliseum. The victory snapped a four-game losing streak against the Raiders and it was the Chargers first overtime win since 1987, ending a streak of eight-straight overtime losses. LaDainian Tomlinson had a memorable afternoon against the Raiders, rushing a career-high 39 times for 153 yards, including his game-winning 19-yard touchdown burst in overtime. Tomlinson scored two touchdowns in the game, including his first career receiving touchdown. The Chargers seemed destined for good fortune early. Sebastian Janikowski's 27-yard field goal attempt on the game's opening series bounced off the right upright, and on the Raiders' second possession of the game, with the ball at the Chargers' 11-yard line, Donnie Edwards intercepted a shovel pass intended for Charlie Garner and yet another potential Oakland scoring drive was thwarted. Ultimately, the Chargers got on the scoreboard first, taking a 7-0 lead in the second quarter when Drew Brees found Reche Caldwell in the back of the end zone for a nine-yard touchdown. It was Caldwell's second touchdown catch in as many weeks. San Diego came roaring out of the locker room to begin the second half and put together a 10-play, 79-yard drive that culminated in a four-yard touchdown pass from Brees to Tomlinson who caught the ball at the two-yard line and crossed the goal line untouched for a 14-0 lead. The Raiders would not go away quietly, tying the game on their next two possessions, including a seven-play drive that ended with a four-yard touchdown pass from Rich Gannon to Jerry Rice and a six-play drive that ended with a 15-yard pass from Gannon to Jerry Porter, tying the game, 14-14, early in the fourth quarter. Out of time outs for the entire fourth quarter, the Chargers were undaunted and caught another break when Janikowski missed his second field goal of the game, this time a 48-yarder that sailed wide left. The Chargers answered with a nine-play, 62-yard drive that ended with a Brees one-yard touchdown run, the first rushing touchdown of his career, and San Diego was ahead once again, 21-14. During the drive Tomlinson carried seven times for 32 yards and the Chargers were aided by three Oakland penalties, including two offside calls and a 15-yard personal foul against Bill Romanowski. Late in the fourth quarter, Oakland put together a nine-play, 82-yard drive that ended with a seven-yard touchdown pass from Gannon to Jon Ritchie and again the game was tied, 21-21, and headed for overtime. The Chargers won the coin toss to begin the extra period and proceeded to march 80 yards down the field in eight plays setting up Tomlinson's 19-yard touchdown run that sealed the win. Brees was outstanding on the overtime drive, completing a 25-yard pass to Tim Dwight on a third-and-10 from the Chargers' 45-yard line and later an 11-yard pass to Dwight on a third-and-10 from the Raiders' 30-yard line to set up Tomlinson's game winning touchdown run and send the Chargers into the bye week with a mark of 6-1.

New York Jets 44, San Diego Chargers 13
Sunday, November 3, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers closed the first half of the 2002 season with a disappointing 44-13 loss to the New York Jets before a crowd of 59,772 at Qualcomm Stadium. The Chargers struggled offensively and defensively as the Jets outgained them in total yardage, 413 to 243, and the Chargers committed three costly turnovers. The Chargers also had multiple breakdowns on special teams, including a punt returned for a touchdown, a blocked point after try, a kickoff out of bounds following a touchdown and a number of costly penalties. The Jets led 14-0 after the first quarter on the strength of an eight-yard touchdown run from Chad Pennington and a 52-yard punt return for a touchdown by Santana Moss. New York stretched the lead to 21-0 in the second quarter on a one-yard touchdown pass from Pennington to tight end Anthony Becht. The Chargers got on the scoreboard late in the second quarter when Drew Brees capped a six-play, 67-yard drive with a 13-yard touchdown pass to Curtis Conway to cut the lead to 21-7. Following an out of bounds kickoff, New York started their ensuing drive at the 40-yard line and marched 60 yards in six plays to take a 28-7 lead on a 17-yard touchdown run by Curtis Martin. A Brees interception on the Chargers' next possession was returned to the 10-yard line and the Jets added a 24-yard field goal from John Hall before the half expired to lead 31-7. In the third quarter, Hall kicked his second field goal of the game, a 32-yarder, to extend the lead to 34-7. LaDainian Tomlinson answered at the end of the period with a seven-yard touchdown run, but the extra point was blocked and the Jets lead held at 34-13. New York would later add a 38-yard field goal from Hall and a 61-yard touchdown run by LaMont Jordan in the fourth quarter as the Jets closed out the win. The 31 point margin of defeat was the Bolts' biggest since a 42-10 loss at Kansas City on Sept. 17, 2000, and the 44 points allowed were the most by the Chargers since surrendering a team record 57 points to the St. Louis Rams on Oct. 1, 2000. The Chargers converted just one third down opportunity in nine attempts, their fewest in a game since Nov. 26, 2000, when the team was successful on one of 11 third down attempts against Kansas City. Tight end Stephen Alexander returned to the starting lineup after missing the last two games due to a foot injury and tied his career high with seven catches for 84 yards. Donnie Edwards had a season-high 13 tackles to lead the Chargers.

St. Louis Rams 28, San Diego Chargers 24
Sunday, November 10, 2002 - Edward Jones Dome (St. Louis, MO)

The Chargers suffered a heartbreaking 28-24 defeat to the Rams before a crowd of 66,093 at the Edward Jones Dome as St. Louis' Isaac Bruce caught two touchdown passes from Marc Bulger in the final minutes of the game to erase a 24-14 deficit. The Chargers were unable to take advantage of LaDainian Tomlinson's fourth 100-yard game of the season and two touchdowns by the defense on fumble returns. Bulger had a career afternoon for the Rams, completing 36 of 48 passes for 453 yards and four touchdowns, while Bruce caught 10 passes for 163 yards and three scores. St. Louis jumped out to a 7-0 lead on the game's opening series when Bulger connected with tight end Ernie Conwell for a 17-yard touchdown pass. On the Rams second offensive series, Alex Molden stripped Troy Edwards of the football and Ryan McNeil recovered the ball and took it five yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 7-7. In the second quarter, the Chargers added a 41-yard field goal by Steve Christie and a one-yard touchdown run by Tomlinson to take a 17-7 lead to the locker room at halftime. On the touchdown drive, Curtis Conway caught the 500th pass of his career to help set up Tomlinson's score. The Rams cut into the Chargers lead on their first possession of the second half when Bruce caught his first touchdown pass of the day, a 27-yarder from Bulger, and the score was 17-14. On the Chargers following series, momentum seemed to be swinging in St. Louis' direction again when Brees' pass intended for Stephen Alexander was intercepted by Kim Herring. The Chargers got a key play of their own though on St. Louis' possession when Ben Leber forced a fumble on a pass caught by Bruce and the Chargers Donnie Edwards picked up the fumble and raced 82 yards for a touchdown to push the lead back to 10 points, 24-14. It marked the first time in team history that the Chargers scored two touchdowns on fumble returns in a game. Late in the fourth quarter when the Rams put together a six-play, 94-yard drive that culminated in a 34-yard touchdown pass from Bulger to Bruce with just over three minutes remaining. After recovering an onside kick, St. Louis drove down the field and scored the decisive touchdown on a seven-yard pass to Bruce, his third touchdown catch of the game. Down 28-24, the Chargers had one last chance with the football, but a Brees pass intended for Reche Caldwell was intercepted by Dexter McCleon in the end zone and St. Louis held on for the win.

San Diego Chargers 20, San Francisco 49ers 17 (OT)
Sunday, November 17, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers improved to 7-3, tied for the best record in the AFC, following a thrilling come-from-behind 20-17 overtime win over the San Francisco 49ers before a crowd of 67,161 at Qualcomm Stadium, the fourth-largest home crowd in Chargers history. Drew Brees passed for a career-high 336 yards as the Chargers overcame a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter to send the contest into overtime. On the Chargers second possession of the overtime period, Steve Christie hit a 40-yard field goal, his second of the game, to defeat the 49ers. Wide receiver Curtis Conway had a career afternoon for the Bolts, catching seven passes for a season-high 152 yards. San Diego got on the scoreboard first when Brees connected with Reche Caldwell for a four-yard touchdown pass late in the first quarter that gave San Diego a 7-0 lead. On the drive, Brees completed four of five for 57 yards, including the touchdown pass to Caldwell. Just before halftime Terrell Owens caught a 32-yard pass from Jeff Garcia and the teams went to their respective locker rooms at halftime tied 7-7. In the third quarter, San Francisco quickly took a 14-7 lead after Owens caught a 76-yard touchdown pass from Garcia. It was the longest pass surrendered by the Chargers this season. A Jose Cortez 24-yard field goal late in the third quarter made it a 10-point game, 17-7. Early in the fourth quarter, the Chargers were driving deep in San Francisco territory, but Brees' pass intended for Stephen Alexander was intercepted in the end zone by San Francisco's Quincy Stewart. After forcing a 49ers punt, Brees led the Chargers 62-yards in seven plays and Christie kicked a field goal from 36 yards to trim the deficit to 17-10. The defense then forced San Francisco to go three-and-out and the Chargers got the ball back at their own 42-yard line with just over three minutes remaining. From there, Brees led an 11-play, 58-yard drive that ended when Fred McCrary caught a one-yard touchdown pass with 31 seconds left and the game was headed to overtime tied 17-17. The Chargers won the coin toss to begin the extra period, but went three-and-out on their first possession. San Francisco took over and drove all the way to the Chargers' 23-yard line where Cortez lined up for a 41-yard field goal. Cortez's kick went wide right and San Diego got the ball back at the 31-yard line. With renewed hope, San Diego drove 47 yards in nine plays to the 49ers 22-yard line and Christie drilled the 40-yarder to win the game. It was the Chargers first victory over San Francisco since 1982 and ended a six-game losing streak to the Niners, which included a loss in Super Bowl XXIX. At 7-3, San Diego has its best start since 1994 when the team began the season 8-2.

Eight plays later, Olindo Mare kicked a 20-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead. The Chargers answered on the ensuing drive, traveling 57 yards in 10 plays and Steve Christie, the hero in last week's overtime win against San Francisco, hit a 38-yard field goal to tie the game at 3-3. Miami came right back and answered with a six-play, 60-yard drive, capped off with a 20-yard touchdown pass from Ray Lucas to James McKnight for a 10-3 lead after one quarter. # San Diego Chargers 30, Denver Broncos 27 (OT)
Sunday, December 1, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers claimed sole possession of first place in the AFC West at 8-4 after registering a 30-27 overtime win against the Denver Broncos before a crowd of 66,357 at Qualcomm Stadium. The eighth-largest home crowd in stadium history was treated to a memorable performance as LaDainian Tomlinson rushed for a team record 220 yards and tied his career high with three touchdowns. Steve Christie kicked his second game winning overtime field goal in the last three weeks. Denver got off to a quick start and took a 10-0 lead after one quarter behind a 54-yard Jason Elam field goal and a 43-yard touchdown run by Clinton Portis. The Chargers were ignited on the final play of the quarter when Tomlinson exploded on a career-long 76-yard run to the Broncos' six-yard line. A facemask penalty moved the ball to the three-yard line and one play later, Tomlinson took the ball to the end zone to cut the lead to 10-7. An outstanding defensive series on Denver's next possession, which included a sack and two tackles for loss, forced the Broncos to punt. San Diego took possession of the ball at the Broncos' 41-yard line and drove the field in five plays, capped by a one-yard touchdown run by Tomlinson to give San Diego the lead at 14-10. Once again, the defense stepped up on Denver's following possession. On third down from their own 25-yard line, Broncos quarterback Steve Beuerlein was sacked by Dequincy Scott, who also forced a fumble that was recovered by Adrian Dingle at the 17-yard line. Six plays later, Tomlinson scored his third touchdown of the game and San Diego's lead grew to 21-10. Denver came right back with a three-play drive and Portis scored a touchdown from eight yards out to cut the lead to 21-17. San Diego added a field goal late in the quarter and led at halftime 24-17. San Diego's 24-point second quarter was the most points the team scored in one quarter since scoring 24 points in the fourth quarter against Miami Dec. 15, 1991. In the third quarter, Denver took the opening kickoff and after a 10-play, 65-yard drive, Beuerlein connected with Reuben Droughns on a 22-yard touchdown pass to tie the game at 24-24. San Diego reclaimed the lead, 27-24, at the start of the fourth quarter with a 40-yard Christie field goal following an interception by Alex Molden. Denver was able to get a 24-yard field goal from Elam in the waning minutes of the quarter and the game was again tied, 27-27, and headed to overtime. In the overtime session, Denver won the coin toss but was forced to punt after three plays. San Diego drove to the Broncos' 19-yard line on their first drive, but Christie's 38-yard field goal attempt to win the game was blocked. Denver then took the ball to the Chargers' 34-yard line, but Elam missed a 53-yard attempt setting the stage once again for Christie. On San Diego's final drive, Drew Brees led the offense 48 yards down the field in nine plays to Denver's nine-yard line and with 3:01 remaining in overtime, Christie kicked a 27-yarder to win the game.

Oakland Raiders 27, San Diego Chargers 7
Sunday, December 8, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers suffered a tough 27-7 defeat to the Oakland Raiders before a crowd of 67,968, the second-largest home crowd ever to witness a Chargers' game at Qualcomm Stadium. San Diego was stymied by three Drew Brees interceptions and Oakland's defense held LaDainain Tomlinson, who rushed for 153 yards in the first meeting, to just 57 yards this time around. One bright spot for the Chargers was wide receiver Eric Parker. Starting for the injured Curtis Conway, Parker stepped up and had a career-high seven catches for 96 yards. Bolstered by a 65-yard return by Marcus Knight on the game's opening kickoff, Oakland drove 36 yards in six plays and took a 7-0 lead on a four-yard run by Charlie Garner. On their next drive, Sebastian Janikowski kicked a 51-yard field goal and Oakland led 10-0 after one quarter. The Chargers closed the gap to 10-7 in the second quarter when Tomlinson capped a seven-play, 45-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown run. Oakland added a 20-yard field goal by Janikowski at the end of the quarter and led 13-7 at the half. After the teams exchanged punts in the third quarter, the Chargers were ignited by a season-long 37-yard punt return by Tim Dwight and began their second drive of the quarter at the Raiders' 47-yard line. Unfortunately, Brees was intercepted by Tory James on the third play of the drive and Oakland responded with an eight-play, 87-yard drive and went up 20-7 when Zack Crockett scored a touchdown on a one-yard run. Oakland added another touchdown by Tyrone Wheatley in the fourth quarter as the Raiders pulled away for the 27-7 win.

Buffalo Bills 20, San Diego Chargers 13
Sunday, December 15, 2002 - Ralph Wilson Stadium (Buffalo, NY)

The Chargers saw their record dip to 8-6 after a disappointing loss to the Buffalo Bills before a crowd of 61,838 at Ralph Wilson Stadium. The Chargers were unable to take advantage of LaDainian Tomlinson's 110-yard effort. Travis Henry of the Bills broke a 13-13 tie with a 26-yard touchdown run with less than a minute remaining in the game. Doug Flutie saw his first action of the season at quarterback, relieving an ineffective Drew Brees in the fourth quarter, however Flutie's rally fell short as the Chargers were unable to put the ball in the end zone to answer Henry's late touchdown. Penalties doomed the Chargers throughout the afternoon as the Bolts were flagged nine times for 121 yards in losses, while the men in stripes threw only four flags against the host Bills. San Diego got on the scoreboard first with a 39-yard field goal by Steve Christie. Tomlinson's game-long 31-yard run on the drive help set up the kick. Buffalo answered however on their ensuing drive as Henry scored on a four-yard run and the Bills took a 7-3 lead. The Chargers were flagged for two pass interference calls, both on third down during the drive to assist Buffalo in moving down the field. In the second quarter, Buffalo pushed the lead to 10-3 on a 42-yard Mike Hollis field goal, but the Chargers answered and tied the score at 10-10 when Tomlinson capped off a nine-play, 83-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown run. Another Hollis field goal, this one from 36 yards just before the half, gave Buffalo a 13-10 lead at intermission. Neither team dented the scoreboard in the third quarter. In the fourth, Flutie replaced Brees and completed his first pass of the season, a 47-yarder to Curtis Conway, which set up a Christie 53-yard field goal that tied the game at 13-13. It was Christie's longest field goal since a 55-yarder for the Bills against Denver Oct. 26, 1997. After the teams traded possessions, Drew Bledsoe led the Bills on a seven-play, 64-yard drive that ended with Henry's 26-yard scoring run. The Chargers had one last chance to tie the game, but Flutie's last two desperation passes to the end zone fell to the ground and Buffalo held on for the victory.

Kansas City Chiefs 24, San Diego Chargers 22
Sunday, December 22, 2002 - Arrowhead Stadium (Kansas City, MO)

The Chargers suffered their third loss in a row and their sixth straight loss at Kansas City's Arrowhead Stadium as the Chiefs Michael Husted kicked a 38-yard field goal with just over one minute remaining in the fourth quarter to all but dash San Diego's hopes of reaching the postseason for the first time since 1995. San Diego put up a valiant fight, rallying behind Drew Brees to erase a 21-6 deficit early in the second half, but a 77-yard drive by the Chiefs in the waning moments of the game sent 77,899 Chiefs fans home with a victory. Once again, the Chargers were unable to take advantage of a 131-yard effort by LaDainian Tomlinson, who tied a team record with his seventh 100-yard rushing game of the season. The Chiefs took control of the game early as San Diego could not get much going offensively for the first two and a half quarters. Kansas City got on the scoreboard first, taking a 7-0 lead after Trent Green and Marc Boerigter hooked up on an eight-yard touchdown pass. The Chargers drove to the Chiefs' 12-yard line on their next possession and a 30-yard field goal by Steve Christie trimmed the deficit to 7-3. Late in the second quarter Green capped a 13-play, 88-yard drive with a six-yard scoring pass to Omar Easy and the Chiefs increased their lead to 14-3. San Diego had an answer at the end of the half and Christie's 49-yard field goal with 14 seconds left in the quarter made it a 14-6 game. In the third quarter, the Chiefs blew the game open when Green threw an NFL record-tying 99-yard touchdown pass to Boerigter and Kansas City led 21-6. The Chargers then began a comeback that saw them run off 16 unanswered points to take the lead, 22-21. The first score, a nine-yard touchdown pass from Brees to Tim Dwight, who made an acrobatic catch and dive into the end zone, capped off a seven-play, 71-yard drive that cut the lead to 21-12 after the two-point conversion attempt failed. After a solid defensive stop, bolstered by a third down sack by Marcellus Wiley, the Chargers got the ball back and drove 64 yards in eight plays for a 24-yard Christie field goal to cut the lead to 21-15. After a three-and-out by the Bolts defense, Brees led the offense 79 yards down the field in nine plays and his three-yard touchdown pass to Fred McCrary capped the comeback and gave San Diego a 22-21 lead early in the fourth quarter. As the game reached the waning minutes, San Diego was unable to put away the Chiefs. Kansas City took the ball one last time with 5:23 left in the fourth quarter and drove 77 yards in 13 plays to set up Husted's game winning kick. The Chargers had time for one last drive down the field, however rookie wide receiver Reche Caldwell fumbled at Kansas City's 45-yard line with 33 seconds left in the game and the Chiefs ran out the clock and escaped with the victory.

Seattle Seahawks 31, San Diego Chargers 28 (OT)
Sunday, December 29, 2002 - Qualcomm Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers 2002 season ended in disappointing fashion as the Seattle Seahawks erased a 14-point fourth quarter deficit and defeated the Chargers 31-28 in overtime in the season finale for both teams. A crowd of 52,159 at Qualcomm Stadium saw the emergence of tight end Stephen Alexander, who set career highs with eight catches and 129 yards while scoring his first touchdown of the season, and another solid showing by quarterback Drew Brees, who passed for 332 yards and a career-high three touchdowns. The Seahawks however relied on the arm of their own quarterback, Matt Hasselbeck, who passed for a career-best 449 yards in the win. Seattle took the early lead as Hasselbeck threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Darrell Jackson on the game's opening possession and the Seahawks grabbed a 7-0 lead. The Chargers countered early in the second quarter when Brees capped off a nine-play, 79-yard drive with a 26-yard touchdown pass to Alexander to tie the game at 7-7. A 26-yard field goal later in the quarter by Steve Christie gave the Bolts a 10-7 lead as the teams retreated to their respective locker rooms at halftime. In the third quarter, the Chargers lead continued to grow as a 29-yard Christie field goal made the score 13-7 and a 31-yard touchdown pass at the end of the period from Brees to Eric Parker put the Chargers lead at 20-7 after three quarters. The Seahawks offense began rolling in the fourth quarter. Shaun Alexander's two-yard touchdown run capped off a drive that cut the Bolts lead to 20-14. San Diego answered on their ensuing possession as Brees led a 12-play, 73-yard drive ending with a one-yard touchdown pass to Fred McCrary, and a successful two-point conversion attempt to Reche Caldwell pushed the Chargers lead to 14 points at 28-14. On their very next drive, Seattle scored a touchdown when Hasselbeck connected with Koren Robinson on a 19-yard score to cut the lead to 28-21. After a San Diego punt with just over three minutes remaining in the quarter, Hasselbeck led a 17-play, 88-yard drive and his one-yard touchdown run with one second left in the fourth quarter tied the game at 28-28 and sent it into overtime. In overtime, Seattle won the toss and drove into Chargers' territory. A third down interception by Alex Molden halted the Seahawks' drive. The Chargers' offense went three-and-out, including a crucial sack of Brees on third down. This time, Seattle took control of the ball and drove 46 yards in 10 plays from where Rian Lindell kicked a game-winning 24-yard field goal to send the Seahawks home with the victory.

GETTING TO THE STADIUM

The San Diego Chargers are expecting near capacity crowds at many of this seasons games and fans are being reminded to arrive early or take the Chargers Express Bus or the Trolley, to the stadium. Orange County and Los Angeles fans can also ride Amtrak and transfer to the Trolley for direct service to Qualcomm Stadium.

For those driving to the game, the parking lot at Qualcomm Stadium is expected to fill and close by 12 p.m. on Sundays. Fans not in the vicinity of the stadium area by 11:00 a.m. may be turned away from the parking lot at the stadium. For those who choose to drive, we strongly suggest carpooling and finding alternative traffic routes. Fans should avoid Interstate 15 after 11:00.

CHARGERS EXPRESS BUS

The Chargers Express Bus operates from eight different San Diego locations. Express buses begin departing two hours before game time with the last departure 45 minutes before kickoff. Buses leave the stadium immediately after the game and continue until 45 minutes after the game ends. Round-trip fare is only $6.00 and $4.00 one-way. Ready Passes may also be used to ride the Chargers Express Bus.

Charger Express Bus Pick Up Locations:

Kearny Mesa Traffic Court (8950 Clairemont Mesa Blvd, east of Interstate 163)
El Cajon Transit Center (on Marshall near Main Street)
Governor Drive & I-805 Park-and-Ride
Mission Bay (2440 Grand Ave.; County Health Center)
Plaza Bonita Shopping Center (in National City)
Spring Street Trolley Station (La Mesa)
College Grove Center off I-94
Mira Mesa Park-and-Ride

SAN DIEGO TROLLEY

The San Diego Trolley's Blue Line drops fans off just steps away from Qualcomm Stadium. Fans can park FREE at most park-and-ride trolley stations and the trolleys will depart most stations every 15 minutes. After the game, trains will depart approximately every four minutes from the stadium station. Round trip fares range from $2.00 to $5.00 depending on the number of stations traveled.

The Old Town Trolley station is the largest and the suggested boarding station for Chargers games. For more information about riding the bus or trolley to the stadium, call InfoExpress at (619) 685-4900 or the Regional Transit Telephone Information line at 1-800 COMMUTE.

Super Bowl XXIX
San Francisco 49ers 49, San Diego Chargers 26
Sunday, January 29, 1995 - Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, FL)

The Chargers were no match for the high-powered San Francisco offense as the 49ers scored early and often en route to handing San Diego a 49-26 defeat. San Francisco quarterback Steve Young passed for four first-half touchdowns, including two to Ricky Watters and one each to Jerry Rice and William Floyd as the 49ers jumped out to a 28-10 lead at halftime. The barrage continued in the second half as Young connected with Rice for two more scores and Watters added a nine-yard touchdown run. Young finished with 325 yards and six touchdown passes while completing 24 of 36 attempts, and Rice caught 10 passes for 149 yards and three touchdowns. Young also added 49 yards on five rushes and was named the game's MVP. The Chargers' offense was forced to play catch-up most of the game, and as a result, quarterback Stan Humphries passed 49 times, completing 24 for 275 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. Running back Natrone Means became the youngest player in Super Bowl history to score a touchdown when the 22-year-old dived over the 49ers' defense for a one-yard scoring plunge in the first quarter. Chargers rookie Andre Coleman tied a Super Bowl record for the longest kickoff return when he went 98 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Following the kickoff return, Humphries passed to Mark Seay for the first two-point conversion in Super Bowl history. Following a 30-yard Humphries to Tony Martin touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter, Humphries completed his second two-point conversion of the game, this time to Alfred Pupunu. Linebackers Dennis Gibson and Junior Seau led the Chargers with 11 tackles a piece, and Seau added one sack. Defensive end Raylee Johnson paced the Chargers with two sacks.

1994 AFC Championship Game
San Diego Chargers 17, Pittsburgh Steelers 13
Sunday, January 15, 1995 - Three Rivers Stadium (Pittsburgh, PA)

The Chargers advanced to the Super Bowl for the first time in franchise history with a stunning 17-13 upset victory over the heavily-favored Pittsburgh Steelers in Three Rivers Stadium. San Diego started the game slowly and Pittsburgh led the Bolts 10-3 at the end of the first half, while outgaining San Diego in total yardage, 229 to 46. The Steelers opened the scoring in the second half with a 23-yard Gary Anderson field goal to extend the lead to 13-3. Later in the quarter, Stan Humphries connected with Al Pupunu on a 43-yard touchdown strike to close the gap to 13-10. The score remained as such until late in the fourth quarter when Humphries threw another 43-yard touchdown pass, this one to Tony Martin, and the Bolts claimed their first lead of the game at 17-13. Pittsburgh took the ensuing kickoff and drove to the Chargers' nine-yard line with two minutes left in the game, but San Diego's defense stopped the Steelers on downs, including a dramatic pass defensed on fourth down by linebacker Dennis Gibson.

1994 AFC Divisonal Playoff Game
San Diego Chargers 22, Miami Dolphins 21
Sunday, January 8, 1995 - Jack Murphy Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers advanced to the AFC Championship Game with a 22-21 victory over the Miami Dolphins in front of a San Diego-record home crowd of 63,381 fans. The win moved the Chargers to the AFC title round for only the third time in team history and the first time since 1982. Dan Marino threw three first-half touchdown passes and the Dolphins led 21-6 at the half. San Diego's offense came alive and dominated the third quarter. The Chargers took the opening drive of the second half and marched 15 plays to the Dolphins' one-yard line before losing the ball on downs. But on Miami's first play from scrimmage, Reuben Davis stopped Bernie Parmalee in the end zone for a safety to make the score 21-8. San Diego took the ensuing kick and Natrone Means finished a 54-yard drive with a 24-yard scoring run, breaking several tackles along the way and the Dolphin lead was trimmed to 21-15. The teams traded possessions through the fourth quarter before Stan Humphries drove the team 61 yards in 10 plays and hit Mark Seay for the game-winning, eight-yard scoring pass. Trailing 22-21 with 35 seconds left in game, Marino moved the Dolphins to San Diego's 30-yard line and positioned Pete Stoyanovich for a 48-yard field goal attempt which sailed wide right. San Diego dominated the game's time of possession, controlling the ball 39:20 compared to Miami's 20:40. The main factor was San Diego's running game, which rolled up 202 of the team's 466 total yards. Means rushed for a personal best 139 yards on 24 carries and scored one touchdown. Humphries completed 20 of 26 attempts in the second half.

1992 AFC Divisonal Playoff Game
Miami Dolphins 31, San Diego Chargers 0
Sunday, January 10, 1993 - Joe Robbie Stadium (Miami, FL)

The Chargers history-making season ended with a 31-0 loss to the Miami Dolphins in Joe Robbie Stadium. Intermittent downpours and a soggy field slowed both teams early as each squad was forced to punt on their first four series. The second quarter proved disastrous for San Diego. Stan Humphries was intercepted three times with each leading to a Dolphins touchdown and a 21-0 halftime lead for Miami. San Diego also suffered a fumbled snap on a punt attempt in the period. The Chargers could not get on track in the second half either, as Miami chalked up 10 more points and forced two more San Diego turnovers. The Chargers' defense was on the field most of the game (37:08). Junior Seau recorded a personal-best 19 tackles in the game. The Dolphins special teams put the Chargers in poor field position on several occasions, including punts, which pinned San Diego's offense back on its own five-, six-, four- and 15-yard lines.

1992 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game
San Diego Chargers 17, Kansas City Chiefs 0
Saturday, January 2, 1993 - Jack Murphy Stadium (San Diego, CA)

San Diego defeated the Kansas City Chiefs, 17-0, in the AFC Wild Card playoffs in San Diego's Jack Murphy Stadium. It marked the first shutout in the history of Wild Card games. It was also the first shutout by the Chargers over Kansas City and the first time the Chiefs were shut out in a non-strike game since 1985. The two defensive powerhouses battled to a scoreless half. The Chargers gained 130 total yards to the Chiefs' 122 yards in the half, but were sacked four times for 47 yards in losses. San Diego hit the scoreboard first when Marion Butts dashed up the middle a career-long 54 yards for a touchdown. On the Chiefs first play of their next possession, a tipped pass by Blaise Winter was intercepted by Leslie O'Neal to set up a 34-yard John Carney field goal. Up 10-0 in the fourth quarter, the Chargers put together an 11-play, 91-yard drive and culminated the series with a five-yard scoring plunge by Steve Hendrickson. The Chargers gained 192 yards on the ground, the second-most productive effort of the 1992 season. The defense harassed the Chiefs passing game into two interceptions and sacked Dave Krieg seven times to tie a season high. Burt Grossman had 2.5 sacks and O'Neal and Shawn Lee each had two.

1981 AFC Divisional Playoff Game
San Diego Chargers 41, Miami Dolphins 38
Saturday, January 2, 1982 - Orange Bowl (Miami, FL)

The Chargers traveled to Miami's Orange Bowl to face AFC East Division champion Miami and won an epic struggle, 41-38, on a 29-yard Rolf Benirscke field goal at the 13:52 mark of the first overtime period. San Diego jumped out to an early 24-0 lead, only to have the Dolphins close the gap under the direction of substitute quarterback Don Strock. The score was 24-17 at halftime and in the second half the Dolphins knotted the score at 24 and again at 31 before assuming their first lead, 38-31, on a 12-yard run by Tony Nathan. The Chargers took a Dolphin turnover and converted it into a 10-play, 82-yard drive, climaxed by a nine-yard pass from Dan Fouts to James Brooks with 58 seconds remaining in regulation. A Dolphin 43-yard field goal try with four seconds remaining was blocked by Kellen Winslow, forcing the game into the overtime period. In overtime, both teams had the opportunity to clinch victory on field-goal attempts. Benirschke missed a 27-yard attempt and Uwe Von Schamann had his attempt blocked by Leroy Jones. The Chargers' game-winning drive was highlighted by receptions of 20 and 29 yards by Wes Chandler and Charlie Joiner, respectively. Dan Fouts' passing performance resulted in records for completions, attempts, and yards in a division playoff and Winslow's 13 receptions broke the division playoff record of 10 receptions, set by Pittsburgh's John Stallworth in 1978. Chandler had a 56-yard punt return for a touchdown for the Chargers, the first punt return for a touchdown in an AFC divisional playoff game. The Chargers broke 15 divisional playoff team records and tied two others.

1980 AFC Championship Game
Oakland Raiders 34, San Diego Chargers 27
Sunday, January 11, 1981 - Jack Murphy Stadium (San Diego, CA)

Oakland took a 28-7 lead in the first half and then held off a late San Diego bid to beat the Chargers for the American Football Conference championship. On the third play from scrimmage, Raiders quarterback Jim Plunkett had a pass bounce off the hands of his intended receiver, Kenny King, and into the grasp of Raymond Chester, who took the pass in for a 65-yard score. San Diego's initial drive was halted when John Jefferson slipped on the wet turf and Dan Fouts' pass zipped into the hands of defender Lester Hayes. The Chargers tied the score minutes later on a 48-yard pass from Fouts to Charlie Joiner. Oakland retaliated with a 76-yard scoring drive, aided by a Plunkett pass to Cliff Branch for 48 yards and a pass interference penalty. By the end of the first quarter, Oakland led 21-7, and the two quarterbacks had combined for 314 yards passing. Oakland later scored on a three-yard run by Mark Van Eeghen, making the score 28-7. San Diego scored near the end of the first half on an eight-yard pass from Fouts to Joiner. Rolf Benirschke kicked a 26-yard field goal and Chuck Muncie scored from six yards to narrow Oakland's lead to 28-24 in the third quarter. Oakland then marched 68 and 37 yards to set up two Chris Bahr field goals while running 10:38 off the clock. Trailing 34-24, Fouts took the Chargers 72 yards in 12 plays, getting a field goal from Benirschke that left them one touchdown behind with 6:52 to play, but Oakland controlled the ball for the final 6:52 and held on for the victory.

1979 AFC Divisonal Playoff Game
Houston Oilers 17, San Diego Chargers 14
Saturday, December 29, 1979 - San Diego Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The Chargers 1979 season, featuring one of the best teams in franchise history, ended in disappointment as the Bolts fell to the Houston Oilers, 17-14, in a Divisonal Playoff game at San Diego Stadium. The Chargers were rolling early and took a 7-0 lead on Clarence Williams' one-yard touchdown on the Bolts first offensive possession of the game. Houston scored 10 unanswered points in the second quarter and led at the half, 10-7. On the opening drive of the third quarter, San Diego reclaimed the lead when Lydell Mitchell capped off a six-play, 65-yard drive with an eight-yard touchdown for a 14-10 lead. Houston came back later in the quarter as Mike Renfro caught a 47-yard touchdown pass from Gifford Nielsen and the Oilers staked out to a 17-14 lead. The Chargers tried to fight back in the fourth quarter, but two Dan Fouts interceptions proved costly and Houston upset the Chargers and eliminated them from the playoffs.

1965 AFL Championship Game
Buffalo Bills 23, San Diego Chargers 0
Sunday, December 26, 1965 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, CA)

It was the same two teams that met in the 1964 Championship game with the scene shifting from the East to the West Coast. But there obviously was no hometown advantage for the San Diego Chargers. Coach Lou Saban's Buffalo Bills found the 59-degree weather much to their liking in San Diego's Balboa Stadium, rolling to a 23-0 victory before 30,361 downhearted fans. San Diego's offensive unit was unable to generate any type of serious attack after the first quarter and the Jack Kemp-led Bills broke loose in the second period. Kemp teamed with end Ernie Warlick for the initial score, an 18-yard pass play capping a 60-yard drive. Just 2:20 later, the Bills struck again on a 74-yard punt return by Butch Byrd and at halftime, Buffalo was ahead 14-0. In the second half, the Chargers were able to contain Buffalo's ground game and Kemp's passing, but couldn't stop the talented toe of placekicker Pete Gogolak. His soccer-style kicks connected twice in the third quarter from 11 and 39 yards and once more in the final period from 32 yards.

1964 AFL Championship Game
Buffalo Bills 20, San Diego Chargers 7
Sunday, December 26, 1964 - War Memorial Stadium (Buffalo, NY)

Lou Saban sent his Buffalo Bills out for a post-Christmas gift after three lean years and one near miss in the American Football League. The Bills found what they were looking for and wrapped up the defending champion San Diego Chargers, 20-7, for the AFL Championship before 40,242 howling hometown fans. The Chargers started out as if they meant to repeat their 51-10 conquest of the Boston Patriots in the 1963 title game. They boomed from their own 20 in four plays with the payoff a 26-yard strike from retiring quarterback Tobin Rote to tight end Dave Kocourek. Keith Lincoln's PAT at 2:16 of the first period was the last time San Diego got on the scoreboard. Disaster soon struck the visitors when Lincoln was forced out of action with a broken rib on "the tackle heard around the world" by Buffalo linebacker Mike Stratton. Coupled with the absence of Lance Alworth, the injury to Lincoln left the Chargers offense impotent. Buffalo forged to a 13-7 halftime lead on field goals from 12 and 17 yards by rookie ace Pete Gogolak and a four-yard touchdown run by halfback Wray Carlton. The Bills tallied again in the final quarter on a sneak by quarterback Jack Kemp.

1963 AFL Championship Game
San Diego Chargers 51, Boston Patriots 10
Sunday, January 5, 1964 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, CA)

Before 30,127 in Balboa Stadium and 30 million more on national television, Keith Lincoln ran, caught and passed like no other athlete ever has in a professional title match as the Californians crumbled the Boston Patriots, 51-10. The Chargers' offense produced 610 yards. Lincoln accounted for 349 of them in virtuoso performance that included a touchdown sprint of 67 yards, a touchdown reception of 25 yards, 206 yards gained rushing, 123 gained pass receiving and 20 gained passing. Lincoln's heroics were mightily abated by the others on a San Diego team that played with brilliance any professional team must respect, including the Bears. It was a powerhouse show by a team that had failed in two previous tries to win the AFL title. Houston outscored the Chargers, 24-16, in 1960 and beat 'em 10-3 in 1961. But the Patriots, with the league's proudest defensive outfit, were no match for the San Diegans. Splendidly prepared by Sid Gilman to combat Boston's almost constantly rushing linebackers, the Chargers scored on their fourth scrimmage play, on their sixth and on their 10th. The Patriots' ground attack suffered after fullback Larry Garron incurred a head injury midway through the second period. Garron later returned to the game but remained in it only briefly. The Patriots scored on a seven-yard run by Garron and a 15-yard field goal by Gino Cappelletti.

1961 AFL Championship Game
Houston Oilers 10, San Diego Chargers 3
Sunday, December 24, 1961 - Balboa Stadium (San Diego, CA)

The 1961 American Football League Championship game in San Diego's Balboa Stadium was a carbon copy of the previous season's title game in that the Houston Oilers beat the San Diego Chargers 10-3. On Jan. 1, 1961, the Oilers edged the Chargers, 24-16, in Houston's Jeppesen Stadium. A live audience of 29,556 fans and a nationwide television audience estimated in the vicinity of 40 million viewers withnessed a monument to defensive football at its best. The crowd at the stadium was held down due to the fact that the game was played on Christmas Eve and the game was telecast into the Los Angeles area and many San Diegans received LA's ABC affiliate, Channel 7. The Oilers scored on a 46-yard field goal by George Blanda midway through the second quarter and added the clincher, a 35-yard touchdown pass by Blanda to Billy Cannon, late in the third quarter. The Chargers only scoring came on a 12-yard field goal early in the final period. Indication of the eveness of the ballgame is that both clubs had a total net offense of 256 yards.

1960 AFL Championship Game
Houston Oilers 24, Los Angeles Chargers 16
Sunday, January 1, 1961 - Jeppesen Stadium (Houston, TX)

The American Football League's first championship game took place Jan. 1, 1961 between the Eastern Divison champion Houston Oilers and the Western Division champion Los Angeles Chargers in Jeppesen Stadium, home of the Eastern titlists. The outcome: Houston 24, Los Angeles 16. In 50 degree weather with 70 percent humidity due to week-long rains, the Chargers took on the Oilers before a live crowd of 32,183 and a television audience of approximately 45 million viewers. Ben Agajanian kicked field goals of 38 and 22 yards to give the Chargers a 6-0 first quarter lead. In the second quarter, Houston's George Blanda hit Dave Smith on a 17-yard touchdown pass, added the conversion and kicked an 18-yard field goal. Agajanian kicked a 27-yard field goal with five seconds left in the half to make the score Houston 10, Los Angeles 9 at the half. In the third quarter, Blanda completed a seven-yard touchdown pass to Bill Groman and kicked the conversion. The Chargers responded when Paul Lowe slanted over from the two-yard line and with Agajanian's conversion the score was Houston 17, Los Angeles 16, at the end of three quarters. In the fourth quarter, Blanda and Billy Cannon teamed up on an 88-yard pass-run touchdown play to conclude the scoring. Player of the game honors went to Cannon, with Blanda and Lowe deadlocked a vote behind. On the day, Cannon gained 50 yards on 18 tries, caught three passes for 128 yards and returned three kickoffs for 81 yards. Blanda completed 16 of 31 passes for 301 yards. Lowe netted 165 yards on 21 carries, caught three passes for five yards and returned four kickoffs for 101 yards. Lowe's total yardage on the day was 271 yards as compared to Cannon's 259. The inability of the Chargers to take the ball in for touchdowns early in the game, settling for three first-half field goals on each occasion, and several bad breaks late in the game proved to be the difference.

CHARGERS ON KFMB

All of the Chargers' preseason, regular-season and postseason games are broadcast on 760 KFMB-AM, while all of the team's preseason games are televised by KFMB-TV, Channel 8. KFMB-TV also is the home of the Chargers' regular-season games because CBS Sports purchased the rights to televise the NFL's American Football Conference games beginning in 1998 and extending through 2005.

Dan Rowe handles the play-by-play on the Chargers' radio broadcasts. Former Chargers player and coach Hank Bauer is the color commentator.

In addition to the preseason telecasts, KFMB-TV produces programming to promote the Chargers, the players and the team's extensive community activities.

DAN ROWE

Dan Rowe was hired by KFMB as the Chargers play-by-play announcer on June 12, 2003. Rowe was the play-by-play announcer for the Minnesota Vikings for 10 seasons from 1991-2000. He also hosted, directed and produced the team's pre- and post-game shows. He spent the last two seasons as a freelance radio announcer, calling local football and basketball games in Minnesota. From 1985-91, Rowe was the play-by-play voice for the football and basketball teams at the University of Tulsa in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He also hosted the pre- and post-game radio shows. Rowe began his career in radio broadcasting as a high school play-by-play announcer calling football and basketball games at WCER in Charlotte, Michigan. He went on to become a sportscaster and sports director at KTTR in Rolla, Missouri from 1976-79 and from 1979-85, he held the same positions at WHFB in Benton Harbor, Michigan. Rowe graduated from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, Michigan in 1971 with a degree in communications.

HANK BAUER

Former Chargers running back, special teams captain and coach, Hank Bauer, handles color commentary on the team's radio broadcasts. Bauer has been a part of the Chargers' family for more than 300 games as a player, coach and broadcaster. A member of the Chargers 40th Anniversary All-Time Team, Bauer played seven seasons for the Chargers. He was a team captain who was voted Most Inspirational Player in 1978 and Special Teams Player of the Year in 1980 and 1981. Bauer scored 21 touchdowns during his career and set an NFL record with 52 special teams tackles in 1981, before a broken neck forced him off the field in 1983. Following his retirement, Bauer spent four seasons (1983-86) as the Chargers special teams coach. In 1987, he accepted a job as a sports anchor at News 8 in San Diego and remained there until March, 2003. Bauer graduated cum laude from California Lutheran University in 1976 with a degree in physical education. This September, Bauer will be a member of the first class inducted into his alma mater's Hall of Fame.

QUALCOMM STADIUM

QUALCOMM Stadium, the stadium that the Chargers have called home since 1967, underwent an expansion in 1997 that included the addition of 11,500 seats, a club level, 37 new suites and a new west-end Jumbotron screen.

The centerpiece of the renovated stadium is the Chargers Gold Club. Chargers season ticket holders who purchase seats on the former loge level of the stadium enjoy special amenities exclusive to Gold Club members. The 7,800 Gold Club seats are wider, padded and come equipped with an attached drink holder. To enhance the Gold Club experience, members have wait service at their seats, featuring a menu complete with a variety of food specialties. Members also enjoy the comfort of four fan friendly lounges where they can relax in an air-conditioned setting before, during and after the game. Restrooms on the Gold Club level also have been upgraded and are staffed with full-time attendants.

The former Jack Murphy Stadium was renamed Qualcomm Stadium after the Qualcomm Corporation contributed $18 million for naming rights. Additionally, the total number of parking spaces at the stadium was increased to 19,000, including 461 handicapped spaces, making the parking lot at Qualcomm Stadium the second-largest in the National Football League. There was a significant increase in restroom capacity at the stadium, with the number of women's facilities almost doubled and the men's restroom capacity increased by 33 percent.

San Diego Stadium was originally built in 1967 as a home for the Chargers at a cost of $27 million. It was dedicated at a Chargers-Lions game on August 20, 1967, before a crowd of 45,988. The 1997 renovation marks the second major facelift to occur at the stadium. Originally built to a capacity of 52,000, the stadium was expanded in 1984 to increase seating capacity to 60,100. The most recent renovation increased the seating capacity at the stadium to 70,000.

The team played before its first-ever sellout crowd on December 3, 1967, when 52,661 turned out to see the Chargers battle the Oakland Raiders. In 1999, the Chargers played in front of the largest home crowd in team history when 68,274 fans were in attendance for a game versus the Green Bay Packers on Oct. 24, 1999.

Qualcomm Stadium was expanded in 1997 to a capacity of 70,000. The stadium hosted Super Bowl XXXVII on January 26, 2003.

TRAINING CAMP INFORMATION

Chargers training camp at The Home Depot Center

The San Diego Chargers will hold their 2003 training camp at the brand-new Home Depot Center on the campus of California State University, Dominguez Hills. Rookies will report to training camp on July 22 and the veterans will report on July 25.

The Home Depot Center is a 125-acre development in Carson, California featuring state-of-the-art stadiums and facilities for soccer, tennis, track and field, cycling, volleyball, baseball, softball, basketball and other sports. Designated as an "Official U.S. Olympic Training Site," The Home Depot Center is the nation's most complete training facility for Olympic, amateur and professional athletes.

Created around a 27,000-seat soccer stadium, 13,000-seat tennis stadium, 20,000-seat track and field stadium and indoor velodrome, the complex is located on the campus of California State University, Dominguez Hills. The Home Depot Center is the home of the 2002 MLS Cup Champion Los Angeles Galaxy and the U.S. Soccer Federation (national team training headquarters). The complex has also been designated "official" training sites for USA Cycling, United States Track and Field, the USTA, home of the USA Tennis High Performance National Training Center and it is also the summer training camp site for the Chargers.

Developed and operated by AEG, the $150 million Home Depot Center represents the largest investment in amateur athletics ever made. Whether competing or training, athletes will have the use of world-class amenities including a 3,000 square foot weight room, complete training and locker room facilities as well as dining, housing and other hospitality services.

Beginning with the inaugural Home Depot Track and Field Invitational on June 1, 2003, The Home Depot Center will be the home of many national and international competitions. In addition to the Los Angeles Galaxy's 19-game schedule (MLS season), the soccer stadium will also host the 2003 MLS All-Star Game on August 2 and the league championship MLS Cup game on November 23, as well as international friendlies. The JPMorgan Chase Open presented by Audi will be held in the tennis stadium August 4-10 followed by a stop on the FIVB Grand Slam World Volleyball Tour, September 19-21. Upcoming international competitions include the 2004 World Junior Cycling Championships and the 2006 IAAF World Cup in Athletics.

This will be the eighth training camp site in the 44-year history of the Chargers. The team held its initial training camp in 1960 at Chapman College in Orange, California, before moving to the University of San Diego from 1961-62. In 1963, the team trained at Rough Acres Ranch in Boulevard, California, located in the rugged hills east of San Diego. The Chargers also trained in Escondido (1964-68), the University of California at Irvine (1969-73), and at United States International University in San Diego (1974-75).

The Chargers most recently held their training camp at the University of California-San Diego from 1976-2002. In 1988, the Chargers donated a $1.1 million training facility to improve the athletic facilities for year-round use by the school.
